'OLD IRONSIDES' TURNED AROUND. The USS Constitution, better known as "Old Ironsides," is put to sea again, but only for a short distance. The Navy moves the ship once a year to turn it around because the sun tends to warp the mast if it is left in one position too long. (UPI Telephoto)

Khrushchev Deputy Asks To Visit U.S.

Mikoyan Move Seen As Possible Bid for High-Level Meetings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of high level Soviet-American policy talks here opened up today with a report that Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan would like to visit Washington early next year.

Mikoyan is in the inner circle of Kremlin leadership close to Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The State Department has declined comment but the Soviet government was understood to have approached the U.S. embassy in Moscow about arranging the trip.

Visited U.S. in 1936

Mikoyan's immediate purpose would be to visit Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov. It would be his second visit to this country. His first was in 1936 as head of an industrial survey group.

The United States, some informants said, has not yet made a decision. But indications were that it would agree to the suggestion.

President Eisenhower proposed last February that leading Soviet personalities should come to this country and rid themselves by first hand observation of false conceptions which Eisenhower said they have about the United States.

Presumably if he came here, the 63-year-old Mikoyan would be prepared to discuss a wide range of outstanding disagreements and tensions.

Trade Angle Big Item

But the belief here is that his main interest would be to promote greater trade.

In a letter to Eisenhower June 2, Khrushchev said such trade could be built up to a volume of several billions of dollars within a few years. But he said to achieve that volume it would be necessary for the United States to grant long term credits to the Soviet Union.

Secretary of State Dulles later remarked that Khrushchev has "declared economic warfare on us . . . . And now it looks as though the Soviet Union wanted to get credit from us so that it could more successfully pursue its economic warfare against us."

There was speculation the question of top-rung visits between Russian and American leaders may have arisen during an eight-hour talk between Khrushchev and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn). The two met in Moscow on Dec. 1, and Mikoyan sat in on the talks for about an hour.

Adenauer Scores Big Gains

West Germans Take Major Role in NATO

ANNIVERSARY OF FIRST FLIGHT NOTED. Several hundred persons braved the cold winds of Kill Devil Hill in North Carolina Tuesday where 55 years ago the Wright brothers made their first flight. Bonn Gains New Stature By Alliance

Supplants France as Third-Ranking Power In Defense of Europe

PARIS (AP)—West Germany is becoming the third most important military power in the Atlantic Alliance, taking the place left vacant by France's troubles in Algeria and her disputes with her allies.

This picture emerged from the annual assessment of NATO strength. The meeting of ministers from the 15 treaty nations headed to its conclusion tonight with big gains for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany and losses for French Premier Charles de Gaulle.

Common Goals Noted

Not that there was any dispute between representatives of the two leaders. Since De Gaulle became premier June 1, circumstances have made them friends seeking the same goals—at least over the short range.

But the Germans were NATO's fair-haired boys. The French had to defend their military shortcomings and failed to win the top place in Allied councils which De Gaulle seeks.

All 15 countries agreed with the military goals presented by the supreme Allied commander, U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad. But an official spokesman added that Norstad's program of 30 combat-ready divisions at full strength and of speeding up development of nuclear weapons was accepted only as an objective. This was an admission that some nations, notably France, are dragging their feet.

Face Algerian Crisis

For several years NATO military planners have been disturbed by France's inability to end the Algerian rebellion and bring back to Europe the several hundred thousand troops sent to quell the nationalist uprising.

During those years the West Germans have been building a new military force. Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss said by the end of March West Germany will have a 200,000-man force in the NATO defense line.

A further indication of West Germany's emergence as the West's major continental military power was contained in the report that for the first time Germans will produce missiles. They will work with France and Italy on antiaircraft missiles which probably will be equipped eventually with nuclear warheads, informants said.

Defends Position

French Army Minister Pierre Guillaumant defended his country's sparse contribution to NATO defenses. He said France would do its best to fulfill its European role but it has many overseas obligations and is "holding the flank of NATO," meaning North Africa.

Ten-Nation Atom Talk at Geneva Fails

Split on Procedural Issues Wrecks Parley In Preliminary Stages

GENEVA (AP) — The 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attacks ended today in complete failure.

The talks never got down to a serious discussion of a surprise attack alert system because East and West were in total disagreement on the very purpose of the conference.

The Soviet bloc made a vain effort at the 4½-hour final meeting to have Jan. 5—or any other date — fixed for resumption of the talks.

The Western group, led by William C. Foster of the United States, firmly told the Soviet bloc it was useless to reconvene unless an agreed basis for the discussions could be established in direct contacts between the governments concerned.

The United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada represented the North Atlantic Treaty powers; and the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania the East bloc.

The conference opened Nov. 10 and became bogged down from the start in procedural arguments.

The Western side submitted numerous technical proposals in the hope the Soviet bloc would agree to discuss these without bringing up political issues.

Rates of Tax For Ridgedale District Fixed

New tax rates for subdivisions within the Ridgedale School District were established today by County Auditor Maurice C. Clements.

The new rates, effective for the entire 1958 tax year, were set following certification by the Marion County Board of Elections of the official vote in Ridgedale's Dec. 9 special election approving a six-mill operating levy.

Board of elections officials reported that the total vote of 647 to 323 was unchanged in the official tabulation. It gives the levy a 66.7 per cent majority. A 60 per cent majority was required for passage.

New rates in the eight Ridgedale subdivisions, listed with the 1957 rates, are:

Subdivisions	1958	1957
Big Island	31.6	27.3
Grand	32	27.7
Grand Prairie	32	27.8
Marion Twp.	31.8	27.8
Montgomery	31.4	27.4
Salt Rock	31.4	27.4
Morral	34.4	30.4
Scott	31.7	27

Segregationist Challenged

Disputed Election Starts House Row

WASHINGTON (AP — The Hays-Alford election dispute moved today toward a possibly bitter fight that could rock the House.

A special House committee voted 3-2 Wednesday to recommend that Dr. Dale Alford, Little Rock segregationist, be denied a seat pending an investigation into charges of irregularities and fraud in his election. The two no votes came from Southerners.

Alford, who testified he believed he was elected honestly, promised to push his case at once.

Last-Minute Candidate

Alford entered the November election at virtually the last minute.

Running as a write-in candidate, he beat Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), an avowed moderate on segregation, by about 1,200 votes.

The committee's Southerners, Chairman Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) and Robert Jones (D-Ala), agreed the election should be investigated. But they said Alford should be seated pending the outcome of the inquiry. This, they said, would be in line with past procedure.

The Southerners were outvoted by Representatives Thomas O'Neill (D-Mass), Kenneth Keating (R-NY) and David Dennison (R-Ohio).

Publisher Starts Action

The formal challenge to Alford's election came not from Hays but from John F. Wells, Little Rock publisher of a weekly newspaper.

Wells told the committee there were numerous irregularities in the vote. He said stickers used by the Alford write-in voters were illegal, and that there were more votes than listed voters in some instances, and that Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas and others conspired to unseat Hays.

DR. DALE ALFORD
House Seat Challenged

Hays said that since he is not contesting the election, "it is the simple question of whether it was an honest election."

Hays will be honored tonight at a dinner to be attended by high government officials, church leaders and others.

Mother With 6 Children Needs Considerable Aid

WANTED: One house large enough for a family of seven—a family now crowded into a trailer without plumbing.

This is the Christmas plea of a mother of six children whose husband has deserted her.

Mrs. C. and five of the youngsters sleep on a double bed and rollaway bed while a five-month-old infant rests in a bassinet which she soon will outgrow.

This conscientious mother works hard to satisfy the wants of her children as best she can.

One of her most treasured possessions, a sewing machine, stands idle, because she has no material to turn into clothing for her children.

Mrs. C. is thankful that the landlord has been kind enough to allow her and the children to remain in the trailer even though she has not been able to pay rent in the last three months.

A period of out-of-state residency has disqualified her for Aid to Dependent Children, which would pay the rent.

All but the oldest child, a nine-

Bus Company Again Offers Runs to Plaza

Daily bus service to the Marion Plaza Shopping Center, on the half hour during the day and hourly each night Monday through Saturday, has been reinstated, Walter Christian, manager of Marion Bus Lines, anounced today.

During the day the bus will leave in front of Tom McNew's Restaurant on E. Center St. on the half-hour, beginning at 8:45 a.m. and ending at 6 p.m.

The night buses will leave from the corner of Woodrow and Davids streets in Oakland Heights at 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30, and will follow the regular route up Center St. to the downtown stop. They will leave the downtown area for the shopping center at 10 minutes before each hour.

The night route will then proceed east on E. Center St., turning at Kensington Pl., the normal end of the route, on to Mt. Vernon Ave. and to the Plaza, arriving on the hour.

Mr. Christian said night service on E. Center St. previously was offered only on Monday and Friday nights. With the extension of the route to the Plaza, the E. Center St. bus will run every night, he noted.

During the day the Plaza bus will take this route from downtown: east on Mt. Vernon Ave., then south on Summit St. to Bexley Ave. and Uhler Rd., returning to Mt. Vernon Ave. for the last stop at the shopping center. This bus will take the same route back to the center of town, Mr. Christian said.

Attorney Says Youth Held in Killing Insane

Basis of Defense Laid On Charge of Murder In Case at Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The attorney for a youth accused of the brutal sex slaying of the young, pregnant wife of an Ohio State University dental student said today his client is insane.

Attorney Russell S. Welch thus indicated he will base his defense of David S. Smith, 20, on those grounds.

Sheriff's Lt. Ellsworth Beck said Smith, part-time Ohio State student, will be charged with first-degree murder. Sheriff's deputies said Smith has confessed the slaying of Mrs. Janice O. Porter, 24, in the bedroom of her home Tuesday morning.

Welch said he will probably request a mental examination for his client. The attorney called Smith "timid" and said nothing has been uncovered to indicate Smith ever showed any cruel tendencies.

Lt. Beck quoted Smith as saying he went to the Porter home intending to assault and kill the expectant mother, that he bound her hands behind her and blindfolded her with a handkerchief, assaulted her and then shot her in the forehead.

Youth Admits Blaze Started By Rifle Bullet

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—A young rifleman has admitted firing an incendiary bullet which touched off California's worst brush fire of the year.

Investigators said Jerry Stewart 21, was target practicing on his father's ranch near here last Sunday and failed to note one of the bullets was incendiary.

The shell set dry grass ablaze. Stewart said he tried to beat out the fire but it spread quickly in the rolling hills near this historic mission village. No charges have been filed against him.

The fire now has blackened more than 60,000 acres and destroyed 17 cabins and homes. More than 2,000 fire fighters are battling it. They hope to control the blaze sometime Friday.

The fire moved south onto the Camp Pendleton Marine reservation but caused no damage.

Presents Red Hats

Pope John Elevates 20 To Position of Cardinal

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Amid glittering and moving medieval pageantry, Pope John XXIII today placed the red hats of their high office over the heads of 20 of the 23 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church.

More than 35,000 cheering persons filled the vast Basilica of St. Peter for the glittering public consistory, the climactic event in the ceremonies this week which have increased the College of Cardinals to 74 men, largest in history.

The new cardinals approached the papal throne singly, hands folded in prayer. Their bright scarlet trains trailed nine feet behind across the green velvet carpet.

Cushing Tenth in Line

Tenth in order was one of the two new American cardinals, Archbishop Richard James Cushing of Boston. The other, Archbishop John O'Hara of Philadelphia, was 13th.

Each of the new princes of the church knelt quickly, kissed the Pope's slipper and then his hand. Each time the pontiff bent low to touch cheeks with the new member of the Sacred College.

Then for each, Pope John repeated this solemn charge in Latin:

"For the praise of Almighty God and the honor of the Holy Apostolic See, receive the red hat, the special badge of a cardinal's rank. By this you are to understand that you must show yourself fearless, even to the shedding of your blood, in making our holy faith respected, in securing peace for Christian people, and in promoting the welfare of the Roman Church. In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

Assistants Hold Galeros

While the Pope spoke, two assistants held one of the broad-brimmed, flat-topped hats — the galero — over the head of the new cardinal.

The ceremony proceeded quickly, lasting about a minute for each cardinal. The vast throng was hushed and the pontiff's strong voice rang through the basilica.

Each cardinal moved away without his red hat. They will be delivered later in the day and will never again appear in public until

Cigar Falls in Clothing

Fire Starts After Upper Man Has Heart Attack

UPPER SANDUSKY — An 83-year-old Upper Sandusky man suffered a fatal heart attack while smoking a cigar Wednesday afternoon. The fire which resulted when he dropped his cigar into a clothes closet did $1,000 damage, Upper Sandusky firemen reported.

The victim was Dallas Gordon Mathews, who made his residence with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Nutter on W. Church St., Upper Sandusky.

Upper Sandusky Fire Chief W. P. Bringman said Mr. Mathews apparently had gone to an upstairs bedroom and was rummaging through some clothes in the closet when he was stricken with the heart attack. He fell to the floor fracturing his jaw and the cigar landed in the clothing. Mr. Mathews was able to make his way to the bed where his body was found by firemen.

The fire spread from the clothing to the rest of the bedroom and destroyed most of the furnishings of the room.

Wyandot County Coroner Dr. Dr. B. H. Hathaway ruled death was due to a heart attack with suffocation as a contributing cause.

Mr. Mathews had been in ill health for some time.

He was born Sept. 25, 1875, in Little Sandusky to Martin and Mary Mount Mathews. He was married in 1905 in Marion to Iva Elnora Seiger. She died on Sept. 14, 1948.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Nutter with whom he made his home; two sisters, Mrs.

Crawford Tax Valuation Up By $7 Million

BUCYRUS — A $7,072,966 increase in the taxable valuation on real estate, personal property and public utilities in Crawford County was reported here today by County Auditor Robert H. Findley.

The new total is $139,887,906 compared with last year's total of $132,814,090.

An increase of $1,436,832 is noted in the new Bucyrus valuation total of $82,548,731. The new total in Galion is $34,080,276, an increase of $1,130,400 from last year's total. Valuation totals have been increased in 32 of the 36 taxing subdivisions in the county with decreases being noted in the remaining four subdivisions.

Millage rates, which determine the amount of real estate tax to be paid in 1959 by property owners, are generally up due, principally, to tax levies and bond issues approved by the voters last month.

'Wish You Were Here'

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Francis J. W. Ford received a Christmas card from Teddy Green, Boston bank robber serving 25 years in Alcatraz. It wished the judge a merry Christmas and added: "Wish you were here."

BROWNIE SCOUTS

A combined Christmas and birthday party was held when members of Brownie Scout Troop 83 of Pleasant School met Tuesday in the school's kindergarten room.

Birthday celebrants were Bonnie Southward and Janis Lusch.

Members wrote a thank you note for the Christmas treat provided by the Pleasant Mothers Study Club, the sponsoring organization for the troop.

Plans were completed to go Christmas caroling Monday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Youngsters will meet at the school and will return there where parents are to pick them up after the event.

CUB SCOUTS

A Christmas party for members of Cub Scout Pack 39 and their families was held Tuesday night at Mark St. School with approximately 100 attending.

The opening ceremony was by members of Den 1, who gave the pledge to the flag. Denmothers are Mrs. Wesley Honaker and Mrs. Ellsworth Bailey. Group singing of Christmas carols was held while the Cub Scouts decorated a tree with decorations they made at den meetings. Leading the singing was Gene Decker with Mr. Decker at the piano. Also for the program, Mrs. Earl Vanscoy gave a flannelgraph presentation of the Christmas story.

Santa Claus distributed treats and refreshments were served.

On the refreshment committee were Mrs. Jay Alton, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Miley, Mrs. H. M. Lawson, Mrs. Elmer Wintringham, Mrs. Charm McCrery, Mrs. Robert Hogan and Mrs. Michael Carpenter. Mrs. Edward Lewis was in charge of table decorations.

The new cubmaster of the pack, Robert Sisson, was introduced by Robert Williamson, retiring cubmaster.

Ohio Sheriffs Map Program Of Legislation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Most Ohio sheriffs believe a convicted murderer should never be permitted to return to society. This was indicated today in a poll of those attending a session of the Buckeye Sheriffs' Assn. here.

The poll showed a majority of the members favor capital punishment, and all favor a law establishing a life sentence without hope of pardon or parole for persons convicted or murder.

The association also has adopted a seven-point legislative program. The program calls for: (1) A statute making a criminal offense for a physician or hospital attendant's failure to report a gunshot wound; (2) A statute making it a misdemeanor to make a false report to an enforcement officer, (for example, a bogus report of a bomb being planted in a school building); (3) Establishment of a safety center; (4) Insurance protection of a deputy working in another county at the request of a sheriff; (5) An increase in county fees; (6) Cost of living pay increases for county officials, and (7) Uniform marking of sheriffs' cars and standard dress for deputies.

Miley, Mrs. Ray Silver, Lt. Geraldine Carr of the Salvation Army staff, Miss Janet Geddis and Miss Margaret Craig. In addition to wrapping the gifts, small basket containers filled with various useful items such as comb, toothbrush and paste, calendar, rolls of candy mints and packages of chewing gum, the club furnishes transportation for the cartons to their destination. Among the places visited each year at this season are rest homes, prisons, county homes and hospitals in one or more counties in addition to Marion.

New Church Here Is Granted Charter

The Home Missionary Holiness Church of Marion, the former Silver Street Mission, has been granted a charter of incorporation. The group is in the process of constructing a new building on Lee St.

The "not for profit corporation" charter was issued by Ted W. Brown, Ohio secretary of state, to Fay Riley, John H. Long and Olivene Rose as incorporators. Listed as a trustee in addition to Mr. Riley and Mr. Long is Edward G. Dotson.

The independent, non-denominational church was founded here in 1942 by the Rev. James T. Carroll who resides now at Rutland, O. His brother, the present pastor, the Rev. Earl Carroll, took over the work in 1945.

Construction of the new building is of cement block and frame with auditorium for worship and eight Sunday School rooms in the basement. It is expected to be ready for occupancy early in the spring.

Low-Budget Mob Scene in Baghdad

That "Go home, Rountree! jeer which greeted the arrival of Assistant Secretary of State William Rountree in Baghdad finds its response in 170 million U.S. hearts.

"Come home, Rountree!

There is no reason for a high official of the U.S. State Department to lend his presence to a stunt to give Communists a low-budget mob scene in Baghdad for their next propaganda film about humiliating the United States.

There is no more reason for it than there was for a vice president of the United States to lend his official position to a stunt in South America to demonstrate that mobs of young thugs could run amuck against the police whenever they felt like it.

Or to get down to cases, there is no more reason for it than there is for Secretary of State Dulles to fly hither and yon the world over, in sickness and in health, in hope and despair, trying to sell the idea of peace to people who aren't buying peace at any price as long as there's a chance to jack up the price by threatening war.

It is the consensus among everybody who comes home after traveling abroad that the United States is taking its lumps.

Not only is it disliked, which would put it on an even footing with the Soviet Union. But the United States is being laughed at because it has lost the simple art of dignity in international relations. Its emissaries of good will give the impression they are selling door-to-door.

What this country needs for a change is a good five-month rest, now that it has given up hope of getting a good 5-cent cigar.

Let it be known among the international set that John Foster Dulles, Richard M. Nixon and all the others will be receiving at home, instead of peregrinating for the benefit of Commies looking for mob scenes to take pictures of for the unwashed hordes they expect will help them crush the United States some day.

Just for a change, let the jeerers and the spitters find their own victims—and let Communist cameramen hire the actors for mob scenes that prove the United States is on the wane.

Secretary Dulles obviously needs a rest anyway. Once the word gets around that this government isn't going to be selling door-to-door, some of the dissatisfied customers may suddenly want to beat a path to Washington, where the local police can keep thugs and hoodlums out of jeering and spitting range.

It Will Be Better This Way

One of the most important matters to be settled by the new Ohio General Assembly is whether to allow unemployed workers to supplement state-paid unemployment compensation and how to legalize the practice if it is going to be made allowable.

Great care would be needed in a new law to carry out this purpose, to make certain that Ohio courts would know in years to come exactly what the General Assembly was willing to permit. Otherwise, endless litigation might be the result.

For this reason, it seems ill-considered and unfair to criticize the Ohio Supreme Court for turning over the problem to the General Assembly, which was the effect of the court's ruling that Ohio workers cannot legally collect supplemental benefits under the existing Ohio Unemployment Compensation Act.

It is especially unfair to accuse the Ohio Supreme Court of taking a reactionary attitude. Courts exist to interpret law, not attitudes. There is nothing in Ohio law that clearly justifies supplemental unemployment benefits, which never had been heard of when the Unemployment Compensation Act was passed.

The Supreme Court would have had to trespass on the General Assembly's territory to find something in the law that never had been put there. If the new General Assembly wants to authorize SUB, that is its privilege. But for the Supreme Court to have found authorization for something that was never considered when the Unemployment Compensation Act was passed would have been a gross abuse of privilege.

Willy Doesn't Need To Worry

Secretary of State Dulles has told Willy Brandt, the mayor of West Berlin, he doesn't need to worry about the future of the city.

The Western Allies, including chiefly the United States, will not let anything happen to the one-time capital of Germany. They will prove at any cost that the Soviet Union is wrong in threatening to put all of Berlin at the mercy of the puppet government of East Germany.

Mayor Brandt will be able to take this assurance about the future of Berlin and his official position more literally than some of the rest of us. He has everything to gain and nothing to lose by the determination of the Western Allies, including chiefly the United States.

The rest of us also have something to lose.

Before and after World War II ended in Europe, Berlin and the rest of Germany had nothing to look forward to but a lifetime of sipping the bitter gall of defeat. They had no reason to believe their conquerors would treat them any better than they have been treated by the Russians in East Germany. They did not foresee the development that would cause the Western Allies to put more emphasis on embarrassing Russians at the Berlin point of comparison than in punishing Germans.

They did not foresee that the expediencies of international power politics would make their conquerors try to restore their strength and their national pride after a war whose stated objective was to destroy Germany utterly as a source of further aggression. The most they dared to hope for when World War II ended was what they have been getting from Russia.

Yet by the end of 1958 they are being told that it has become so important to the Allies to oppose Russia on all things at all points that they need have no fear of being given the Russian brand of treatment. On the assumption there must be many Germans chuckling about a turn of events that has made both them and the Japanese the allies of their conquerors, they seem certain to have a merrier Christmas than they dared to dream of when they lost World War II. To the defeated belong the spoils of World War II.

More Help Needed

The report from the Salvation Army that its Christmas fund is lagging badly is unhappy news.

A similar situation faced the Army at this time last year and it was met with a tremendous spontaneous drive in the last few days before Christmas.

Approximately $6,000 was collected in 1958 and all of it was used to bring Christmas food, other necessities and a few toys for the children in families that otherwise would have had a mighty bleak holiday.

Salvation Army officials say they will settle for $5,000 this year, but to date they have only $2,000. Neither the kettles nor the solicitation by letters have produced at the normal rate.

Collecting $3,000 between now and next Wednesday is not impossible, but it will require another whirlwind finish sparked by ample portions of the true Christmas spirit if the goal is to be reached.

The national economy definitely is on the upgrade but this trend will mean little to the family which finds itself destitute on Christmas Day, 1958.

More help is needed, and quickly.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The guided missile, intercontinental rocket and spaceship influence envelopes Christmas gifts for Junior. The Cape Canaveral mood will reign at foot of tree. Pop and Mom will have it rigged amid the "misguidedmissiles," and home repairs will extend well into the new year. Santa indeed looks supersonic.

Clement Moore, possibly seeking U.N. protection, would put his famous poem this way:

'Twas the morn after Christmas and all through the shack,
The kiddies were staging a missile attack;
Mama in her helmet and I in one, too,
Were in our bomb-shelter, as plaster fell through;
(The home was in such a distressing condition
I knew Cape Canaveral had opposition.)

High over the lawn there arose a great clatter—
(I didn't look out; I knew what was the matter);
I knew that St. Nicholas was in full flight
With his reindeer the victims of panic and fright.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they went—
(They knew how the kids' missile Christmas was spent).—
"If you want to live long make it fast through the sky."
Santa cried to his deer with a groan and a sigh.

"Now, Dasher! Now, Dancer! Now, Prancer and Vixen-
The children their space rocket fuels are now mixin'...
On, Comet! On, Cupid! Full speed and away!
If the kiddies don't get you, their poor parents may."

His eyes they were bloodshot, his face wasn't gleaming,
As missiles from rooftops below him came streaming;
Old Santa looked dismal, his future black
(He feared from all parents a counter-attack);
A facial expression devoid of all bliss
Implied he regretted a Christmas like this,
And I heard him exclaim as he flew far from sight
"Merry Christmas to all, but to rockets good night!"

Q. Who were the authors of "Silent Night?" Jerry K.

A. The generally accepted story is that Frank Gruber, an organist in a small Austrian village did the music and Father Josef Mohr the words. Mice had damaged the church organ. Gruber composed the song to be played Christmas on a guitar. He asked Father Mohr to write the words. The year was 1851.

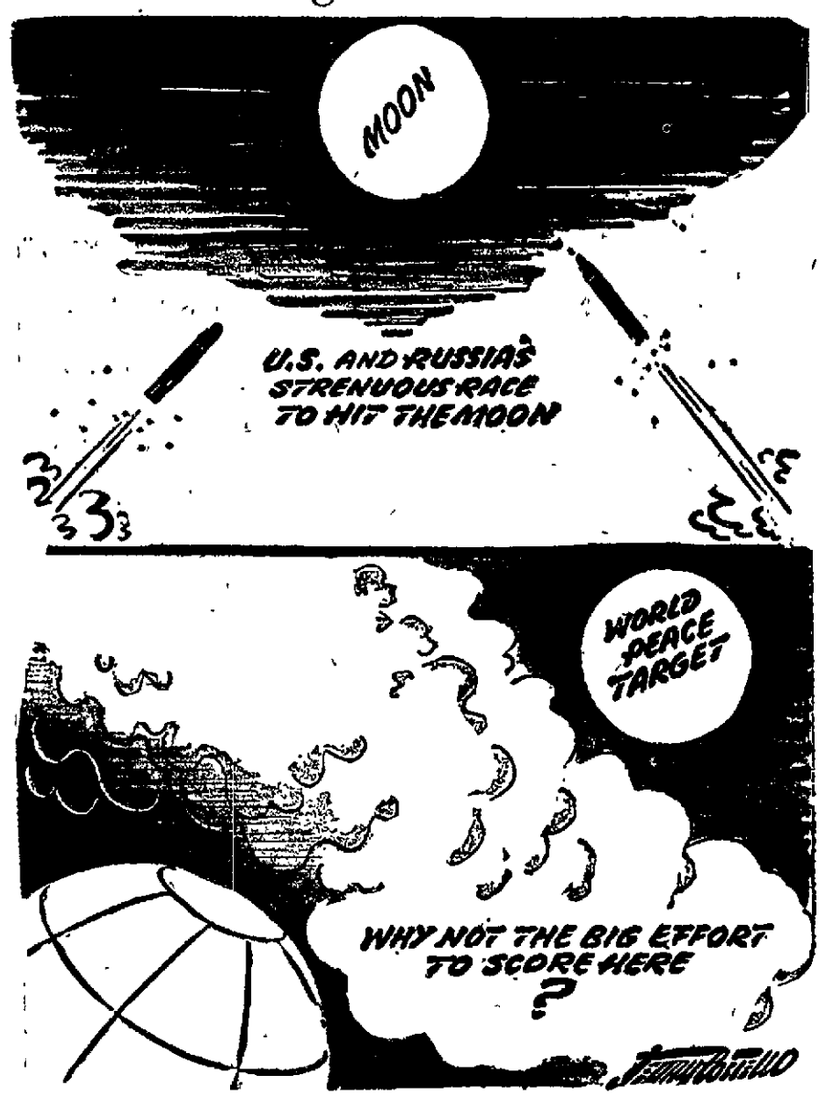
Misguided Effort



Surprise of Century?

By David Lawrence

Four political parties, instead of just two, may be in the field in the 1960 presidential campaign. It seems likely that there will be a bolt not only from the Democratic party but also from the Republican party.

Lawrence

The so-called "liberals" are threatening to drive the conservatives out of the Democratic party. Likewise, this week the first signs are manifest that those Republicans in Congress who like to call themselves "liberal," in imitation of their Democratic party brethren, are about to split the Republican party.

If the only function the Republican party is to serve hereafter is to be an imitation of the northern "liberal" faction of the Democratic party, then millions of conservative Republicans will be found ready to join a new party.

The controversy which has just started over the selection of a leader of the Republicans in the Senate can have far-reaching consequences.

THE SITUATION in the Democratic party is much further developed toward a dissolution. Almost every political visitor who comes to Washington from the Southland concedes that there is trouble brewing.

The story seems to be that the regularly nominated and elected Democrats in Congress will take no active part in the bolt but will attend the next national convention as Democratic party delegates.

Among the rank and file, on the other hand, there is already much discussion about "write-in" votes and the placing of the names of independent electors on the presidential ballot.

The Southern conservatives would like nothing better than to have a chance to join with Northern conservatives in forming a new political party in America.

Such a union, however, seems for the present out of the question so long as the Republicans insist on a federalized system of government which deprives the states of their right to control their own public schools and education processes.

If the Republican party concept of the "civil rights" issue is to remain the same as that of the Northern Democrats, then there is little chance for a national coalition of conservatives to be formed.

THERE IS ALWAYS the chance, under such circumstances, that a presidential election might be thrown into the House of Representatives for decision, as the Constitution provides when no candidate gets a majority of the electoral votes.

The unanswered question is not merely the extent of the defection in the ranks of the Republican party in the Northern states but the size of the dissident vote inside the Democratic party in all parts of the country.

If "non-integration" of the public schools were in some way, for instance, implied as an issue by a candidate espousing the cause of states' rights vs. federal encroachment, there probably would be a surprising number of persons in the North and West voting for such a ticket who previously had labeled themselves as Democrats.

Often, when the choice is between the "lesser of two evils," the voter doesn't have a chance to indicate his adherence to the particular political philosophy that he likes.

WHAT HAS LED to the confused picture is the erroneous interpretation given generally to the sweeping victory won in the name of the Democratic party in the recent congressional elections.

This has been mistakenly construed as a triumph for "liberalism."

Short-sighted Republicans have been persuaded rather easily that radicalism and "modernism" won, when, as a matter of fact, many of the Democratic candidates who were victorious last month are busy today explaining how really non-radical they are and how they do not favor unlimited spending.

Inside the Democratic party the drive is on just the same to curb the power of the Southern leadership of various committees in Congress — also in the name of "liberalism."

The net result is to increase the opportunity for a deeper cleavage inside the Democratic party.

Maybe all parties a few years hence will be looking for an American De Gaulle to rescue them from the debacle of splintered parties.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

"I don't expect any unusual demands upon the new Congress . . . I trust the good sense of the people who want nothing more than low taxes, high wages, low prices, and complete security!"

Democratic Contenders

By Raymond Moley

It is not surprising, as more and more possibilities for the presidential nomination appear on the Democratic scene, that there is more and more talk about getting out the old 1952 model for another run—Adlai Stevenson.

Eleanor Roosevelt, whose voice is important in Democratic ranks, has had some things to say recently.

Commenting that Stevenson is "the best we could have," she added in a television interview that the practical politicians who do the nominating may be looking for a newer model, presumably with higher fins and dual headlights.

One such, whom she regards as possessing a "spark of greatness," is Sen. Hubert Humphrey, the latest of those who have interviewed the oracle in the Kremlin.

Mrs. Roosevelt added that in giving so much time to Minnesota's fast-talking solon, Khrushchev recognized him as "a potential power." No doubt, the senator has long been of that mind himself.

THE FORMER first lady was harsh with the man most frequently mentioned as a contender, Sen. John Kennedy. Mrs. Roosevelt's remarks concerning Kennedy reveal her chronic inability to clothe her thoughts with clear language but the basic opinion she holds is very clear indeed.

She does not like Sen. Kennedy and she does not like his father, Joseph Patrick Kennedy, one-time American ambassador to the Court of St. James.

She said among other things in referring to Sen. Kennedy, no doubt having in mind his best-selling treaties, "Profiles in Courage":

"I feel that I would hesitate to place the difficult decision that the next president will have to make with someone who understands what courage is and admires it, but has not quite the independence to have it."

When a man's independence is questioned, the speaker has an obligation, it would seem, to specify who is holding the leash. But Mrs. Roosevelt did not mention the source of Kennedy's limitations.

Thus she left some inferences that are not quite fair.

Of Kennedy, the father, she remarked that he had been "spending oodles of money all over the country in his son's behalf," and that he "probably has paid representatives in every state by now."

TO CLARIFY this, she added that it is perfectly legitimate to have such paid workers. In fact, when her husband, Franklin, was seeking the nomination in 1931 and 1932 he had the advantage of the governorship of New York to provide workers in the great crusade without burdening the family budget.

It might be added that father Joseph Patrick Kennedy's monetary contribution to that cause in those years was not a source of Mrs. Roosevelt's many cares then. Apparently what was sauce for Franklin—very gratefully received—is not sauce for son John Kennedy now.

This feeling of Mrs. Roosevelt for the Kennedys is no new matter, however. In the first year of the Roosevelt regime in 1933-1934 Louis Howe, who for some reason had a violent antipathy for father Kennedy, labored to block any appointment for him which any contributor—"before Chicago," they called it — might regard as the legitimate reward for help in time of need.

Then and always, Howe was Mrs. Roosevelt's mentor, guide, confidant, and source of almost supernatural wisdom. Perhaps her memory—of which there is published evidence in her many memoirs—carries back to that feud.

WHILE HER memoirs show distressing errors of fact, her grudges are always bright and well polished, notably in her opinions of Smith and Farley.

Many may regard Kennedy as too immature for the tasks of the presidency but it is only fair that this echo of "battles of long ago," when he was only 15 years old, should not be held an obstacle to his ambitions now.

GOP Leadership Fight

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Republicans are rubbing their aching heads. President Eisenhower probably is too. He's in the middle. What he seems to want is peace and harmony among Senate Republicans. He's getting the opposite.

A band of 10 rebellious Republican senators have teamed up to muscle aside the conservative Republicans who have been running their show. A fight looks certain Jan. 7, when Congress returns. The rebels may be outnumbered. In all, there will be 34 GOP senators in the next Congress.

SEN GEORGE AIKEN of Vermont, 66, and no political chicken since he's been in the Senate 18 years, is leader of the rebels. They don't call themselves liberals. They indicate they think they represent the wave of the future.

They point to the November elections — which took a heavy toll of Republican conservatives—as proof the voters are fed up with conservative Republicanism.

For years the Senate Republican leadership has been in the hands of conservatives like senators Robert Taft of Ohio, William Knowland of California and Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

WHEN TAFT died five years ago, Knowland succeeded him as Republican floor leader. Knowland was defeated this year when he quit the Senate to run for the governorship of California.

But the 60-year-old Bridges, even more of a veteran than Aiken with 22 years in the Senate, is still very much a powerhouse. He's chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Bridges and Knowland have differed a number of times with Eisenhower on foreign policy. But the rebels are not only trying to unseat Bridges as policy chairman and put one of their own number in his place. They're also shooting at Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois.

DIRKSEN, a Taft Republican and with a generally conservative record, wants to succeed Knowland as Republican floor leader. And he says he'll fight to get the job.

There's a little irony in this. Members of the Aiken group claim to be Eisenhower supporters. But Dirksen describes himself as a down-the-line Eisenhower supporter.

In recent years Dirksen has supported much of the President's foreign policy. Protesting against what the rebels want to do to him, he says "I have carried the flag" for Eisenhower "when the legislative going was rough."

BRIDGES, apparently very unhappy over this whole business, went to see Eisenhower Wednesday. He indicated the President had initiated the meeting. It's hard to see why, judging from what Bridges said.

He said Eisenhower "just listened" and doesn't want to take sides. There is something else hard to see too: If Eisenhower isn't taking sides, why didn't he see any of the Aiken group?

Aiken has said: "We haven't heard a peep from the White House but we would welcome some encouragement from there."

Dirksen was at the White House Wednesday, but on other business. Later he said he and Eisenhower didn't discuss the leadership fight.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — A former member of President Wilson's cabinet reported that no serious consideration would ever be paid by the American government to any plan looking to the cancellation of the immense loans made to the allies. He cited other countries' pride as the reason. The total debt amounted to $8,500,000,000.

A coup d'etat was attempted and defeated in Russia. The plan, which was engineered by M. Tropov, a Russian Royalist, had as its objective the establishment of a new monarchial government in Russia with Grand Duke Nicholas as its head.

20 YEARS AGO — Clyde Hinamon of Grand Prairie Township was elected president of the Marion County Township Trustees and Clerks Association at the organization's annual meeting. He succeeded Fred Baldinger of Tully Township.

Alf M. Landon, U.S. delegate to the Pan American conference, made his first address. He stepped from his role as delegate long enough to express some personal opinions during his talk.

10 YEARS AGO — Henry Fisher, 30, son of Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, was married in a simple ceremony to a Roman Catholic artist. His father was not able to attend the wedding. The bride was Felicity Hutton.

A British-Russian frontier incident appeared settled while the squabble over radio Berlin went on. Six British soldiers held by the Russians since the squabble were released from custody.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm the mother of three teen-age boys. They are all good students, members of the "Y," active in athletics and their dad and I are proud of them.

The oldest boy is 17 and an ardent stamp collector. In September he sent away for some stamps which he saw advertised in a magazine. Three weeks after the stamps arrived he received a rather large envelope on which was written PERSONAL.

When he came from school I handed him the envelope and he opened it in my presence.

It contained a folder advertising photographs of nude women. The sale price of these vulgar pictures was $1 each. Two free samples were enclosed. A second folder described "home movies for the crowd—fellas only, of course."

There was also a perfume-scented letter written on pink stationery. It was signed "Peggy. She offered a recording of her voice which could be played on a 78-r.p.m. machine.

The letter said: "Ill be speaking to you in the privacy of your own room—just the two of us. My record plays for six wonderful minutes. The price is only $5.

"You'll never miss this small amount and a girl in MY position (stuck in Hollywood with so many phonies) has to make a living somehow.

My son looked at the material and said, "My Lord what junk! He threw everything in the waste basket. When he left the room I retrieved it because I wanted to show it to my husband and discuss with him a course of action.

My husband suggested I send the material to you and ask for your advice. Please tell us what can be done to keep this filth out of our homes?

It makes me sick to think that thousands of youths are being exposed to such trash.—IRATE MOTHER AND DAD.

Dear Irate Mother and Dad: Thank you for the letter and enclosures. I've received identical material from others. Most of this junk comes from California, some from New York.

Smut peddling is a 350-million-dollar-a-year racket. Until now, the filth merchants have been operating with a fairly free hand. Some attempts have been made to nail them but the law had no teeth—until recently.

In the past the Post Office Department was handicapped seriously because of a court ruling which held that a dealer in pornography could be prosecuted only in the city where the material was dropped in the mail and NOT in the city where it was received.

The last session of Congress enacted a new law as a result of pressures from outraged parents and school and church authorities.

This law authorizes the government to prosecute mailers of filthy material in any community where it is received.

Parents are no longer obliged to sit helplessly by while this garbage invades their homes. There IS something that can be done and I urge all parents to cooperate by turning the material over to the local Post Office authorities immediately upon receiving it.

The postmaster will put it in the hands of the local United States district attorney for prosecution before a LOCAL judge and jury.

The new law calls for a maximum penalty of a $5,000 fine and five years in prison for the first offense. A second offense means $10,000 and 10 years in prison.

I would like to shout a personal hallelujah for this new piece of legislation. Now that the law is on our side, let's throw the book at these unconscionable low-lifes who prey on Americas teen-age children.

Confidential

TO ALTA-MONITA: See a lawyer. Certainly a man must "let off steam but a woman needs teeth in her mouth. This is no marriage. Wake up.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Industrial Zone Sought in Scioto Ordnance Section

A decision to form a subcommittee to take steps necessary to bring about the establishment of an industrial zone in the old Scioto Ordnance plant area was reached Wednesday noon by the Civic Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Walter Moore, chairman, said that the proposal had been discussed with township zoning officials and that they indicated the rezoning is possible. The subcommittee is to be appointed at a later meeting of the committee.

The group directed its sewer subcommittee to urge city officials to decide whether or not to accept a government offer to sell a trunk sanitary sewer to the city. The sewer serves the Engineer Depot, General Services Administration facility and Marion Correctional Institution. The proposal has been under discussion for two years. Committee members feel the offer should be either accepted or rejected, Mr. Moore reported.

Revenue Officers Nab Moonshiners In Northeast Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP)—Moonshine whisky and the machinery which produces it turned up in three northeastern Ohio communities Wednesday.

Thomas Greer of Cleveland was released on $1,000 bond by U. S. Commissioner H. A. Horn. Greer was arrested when liquor agents raided a 50-gallon still operating in his second-story apartment.

In Trumbull County, police arrested two men when 18 half-gallon jars of illegal whisky were found in the trunk of a car. The men were held at Warren. Deputies said charges of illegal possession of whisky will be filed.

And in Kent, police and liquor agents are looking for the owner of a shack which burned Wednesday. Firemen discovered a 30-gallon still in the structure.

South Lebanon Without Street Lights, No Funds

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The nearby village of South Lebanon, with a population of about 1,300, is without street lights because it doesn't have any money to pay its electric bill.

Village Council asked Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. to shut off electric power.

Mayor Miles Terry said the village owes a $2,480 electric bill and that it costs $240 a month to keep the street lights burning.

"There just doesn't seem to be much sense in running up a bill we can't hope to pay," Terry added.

Mayor Terry said defeat of a 3.5 mill tax levy for the villate at the November election eliminated any hope for replenishing the general fund.

Journey of the Magi to Jesus

Scholars Told Bethlehem Their Goal

Editor's Note: After obtaining from Herod the place of birth of the Savior promised in Jewish tradition—and giving in return the time they first saw the Star — the Magi departed for Bethlehem with misgivings about Herod's intentions.

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Propped up with cushions, King Herod the Great watched with canny eyes as the bejeweled curtains parted and the three Eastrn philosophers were ushed before him.

They bowed in their accustomed manner, stretching forth their hands at knee level. After an exchange of amenities, Herod leaned forward, entwining his veined fingers. Perspiration beaded his forehead as he spoke:

"At what time, my astute doctors, did ye observe this 'a star Theios' — this Divine star?"

Fourth of a Series

Taut lines creased his ashen countenance.

The Magi, whether they realized it or not, were in a precarious position. Their report of a new-born prince had stirred up all Jerusalem, and caused consternation among authorities.

For less than this, Herod often had lopped heads. In the 35 years since the Roman Senate gave him Judea's throne, his reign was stewn with victims suspected of sedition, including sons, wife and other relatives.

Now a deathly sick, half-mad man of 69 still tortured with fear of insurrection, and assassination plots, he had acted with characteristic vehemence to trace this latest unrest.

BEFORE summoning the Magi to a private audience, he had obtained a full account of their claims from informers, and had ordered Judea's foremost scholars brought before him for questioning.

These had included leading members of the Jewish religious and civil court, the Sanhedrin—the chief priests and experts on religious law, the scribes—all of them obviously in fright.

Knowing Herod's blood - letting habits, they must have stood there white and rigid as he demanded they give details of the prophecied Christ. What do the books say? Where is this Godly king supposed to be born?

"In Bethlehem of Judea," a quaking counselor had said "For thus it is written by the prophet: 'And thou Bethlehem art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a governor, that shall rule my people Israel'."

So nervous had the man been that he somewhat misquoted the Prophet Micah who had written 700 years before:

"But thou, Bethlehem, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth that is to be ruler in Israel; Whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting. . . .

"And he shall . . . be great unto the ends of the earth. And this man shall be the peace."

IN ANY CASE, Herod, after ascertaining the geographical locale foreseen for the event, turned his attention to the Magi, the Persian interlopers who had rekindled the whole business.

What steps should he take? To execute him could bring grave political repercussions, for they held royal rank, and carried "safe conduct" tablets from Persia's bellicose Parthian ruler, Phraates IV.

Next to the Romans, the Parthians then were the world's hautiest military power. Their famed horsemen and archers had overwhelmed many an elite corps and Phraates had exchanged tokens of peace with the Roman Emperor Augustus.

So Herod had them called ceremoniously into his presence.

They were regal-looking figures, straight and keen eyed, dressed in costly robes. "Atharvans," they were titled, "guardians of the fire," clerks of astronomy, said to have once been of Persia's tribe of Medes.

As the interview began, Herod restrained himself carefully. "Ye have spoken in the shops and streets of a new kingly son," he said, "yet there has been no issue of late in this household." He smiled grimly, "I can well vouchsafe for that."

Then he leaned forward, and in confidential tones, inquired at what time the star had appeared, for this would determine the moment of nativity, and the present age of the child.

THE SENIOR magus, Melchior, studied Herod for a moment, then precisely set forth the month, day and hour of the heavenly sign. He also recounted the time that had elapsed since in preparation and travel.

Altogether it apparently had been more than a year since the star's appearance, as indicated by the length of the trip, and Herod's subsequent action against Bethlehem children up to 2 years of age.

His meeting with the Magi probably came near his final, disease-ridden year of life, for he died in 4 B.C., in a maniacal rage after learning the Magi had circumvented him. Thus, the likely date of the star was 6 B.C.

After getting this information, Herod, hoping to use the Magi's abilities to lead him to the specific child, advised them of his findings from the Jewish advisers—that the site was Bethlehem.

"Go and search diligently for the young child," Herod said ingratiatingly, "and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also."

The Magi departed, dubious about Herod's intent, but nevertheless with freshened certainty that they neared their objective. The latest turn of affairs was highly encouraging after the fruitless inquiries in Jerusalem.

"And, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was," Matthew's gospel relates. "When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy."

It was a short, five-mile ride from Jerusalem south to Bethlehem, and varying theories and traditions from olden times have come down about the star's second appearance.

SINCE IT first appeared in the east, the earth's course around the sun could have left it obliterated in the daylight sky for many months before it appeared again in the westerly night sky.

Astronomy also has recorded "variable stars"—those that burst into splendor briefly only to fade and remain dormant for an extended period before exploding again into brilliance.

It also has been determined that the dog-star Sirius, brightest of the fixed stars, rose helaically before dawn—a strikingly rare sight—in 5 B.C. on the first of the Egyptian month Mesori, meaning "Presentation of the prince."

Some analysts note that the phrase saying the star "went before them," in its usual Testament sense, does not mean it guided them, but rather that it arrived there in advance of them.

Whatever the details, scripture is not written to instruct in astronomy or the physical sciences, but to guide men to the Lord himself, and the natural wonder—the light of the star—inevitably is less than the supernatural wonder—the light of Christ on earth.

And whether it was a comet, a pillar of fire, the reappearance of a star, or the flaring of a new one that led them to that house, they moved, not alone at the behest of a handy, miraculous beacon, but as all men must, in the light of events, with grace.

For in God's intricate design, even Herod, bent on murder, had contributed to the illumination of the wise.

Next: The Gifts

Mayor Bids To End New York Newspaper Strike Deadlock

Wagner Sits Down With Conciliators

Meeting Called After Parleys Break Down In Nine-Day Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner and three national and city mediation officials meet today to discuss the nine-day-old strike against nine city newspapers.

Peace talks broke down completely Wednesday. Group representing publishers and the striking Newspapers and Mail Deliverers Union failed to agree on a resumption of negotiations as they met with federal mediators.

Presses at the nine papers have been still since shortly after the strike of deliverymen began Dec. 9 over wages and other contract issues.

The newspaper industry is losing an estimated 1½ million dollers a day in advertising and circulation revenues and in suspended wages of nearly 20,000 nonstriking but idle employes.

In a separate action, the New York Board of Trade called on President Eisenhower, Gov. Averell Harriman, Gov.-elect Nelson A Rockefeller and Wagner to intervene.

At Wednesday's brief joint meeting, the publishers held firm on their offer of a two-year, $7-a-week wage package.

The deliverers' membership turned down this offer when the strike began. Union negotiators agreed Tuesday to resubmit the offer, but were overruled in a membership meeting.

Present deliverers' wages are $103.82 a week.

Soviet Envoy 'Lone Wolf' at State Function

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov found himself in something of a lone wolf role at Wednesday night's White House state dinner for diplomats, with "no lady allocated for me."

Protocol seemed to be taking a backseat in other ways.

President Eisenhower passed up champagne with his guests from 43 nations to join 44 choir boy entertainers having soft drinks.

The White House staged the first of two dinners for the heads of 83 foreign missions.

Of the 78 guests Wednesday night, there were 10 "extra" men and Ambassador Menshikov was one of them.

The usually smiling Russian, looking a little glum, walked alone as the diplomats and ladies went two by two into the East Ballroom for an after-dinner musicale.

When reporters asked why he was alone, he smiled and explained that his wife was home in Moscow and there was "no lady allocated for me."

He was still alone as the guests went into a late evening buffet. He was among the first guests to leave.

Socialite Held For Murder of Her Father, 74

Court To Rule on Plea For Mental Tests for Miss Isabel Russell

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP)—Socially prominent Miss Isabel Russell, 45, is charged with murder in the death of her father, a onetime wealthy business executive.

The body of Joseph B. Russell, 74, was found Sept. 1 under shrubbery at the family's palatial estate in Westwood, a fashionable suburb about 12 miles southwest of Boston.

A medical examination report showed Russell's chest had been crushed and his back broken. It was not until Miss Russell was brought to court Wednesday that it was learned a police investigation had been under way.

Disheveled, and her hair stringy after battling with arresting officers, Miss Russell pleaded innocent before District Court Judge Gilbert W. Cox.

Before entering court, Miss Russell said: "I did not kill my father. I don't know what this is all about. The last time I saw my father was at midnight last September. The next time was when I saw him lying on the ground outside."

Her uncle, Richard Russell, former mayor of Cambridge and congressman, pleaded with the court that Miss Russell be committed at once to a mental institution for observation.

Judge Cox denied the plea and ordered Miss Russell jailed until a decision is made whether she should be held for grand jury action.

Miss Russell was arrested at a Brookline hotel where she and a sister, Frances, 48, lived since the father's death.

The victim was a former partner in the insurance firm of Obrion, Russell & Co.

The two sisters were the beneficiaries of their father's will. Although once affluent, he left only $55,000.

Cardinals

the owners are dead. When a cardinal dies, his hat is placed on his catafalque and then suspended from the ceiling of his cathedral.

Seated nearby, in a row before the Altar of the Cathedral Chair, were the 23 previous members of the College of Cardinals now in Rome. Among them Archbishop Francis Spellman of New York. It was they who on Monday met with Pope John in secret consistory to give their assent to the new cardinals, the first event in the week's program.

After the ceremony of the red hat, Pope John gave his blessing to the cardinals and to the thousands in the basilica, then was borne out on his portable throne.

The new cardinals returned to the basilica altar, before the empty pontifical throne, for the final ceremony.

They prostrated themselves before the altar and prayed while the Sistine Choir sang a verse of the Te Deum (Hymn of Thanks).

Dean Recites Prayer

Then, in the last act of the public ceremony, Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, the dean of the college, recited a prayer over the still prostrate prelates.

All the cardinals then filed out to a concluding secret consistory with Pope John.

The three new cardinals absent today were Fernando Cento, papal nuncio to Portugal; Joseph Bueno y Monreal, archbishop of Seville, Spain, and the Vatican's nuncio to Italy, Giuseppe Fietta. They will receive the insignia of their office from the chiefs of states of Portugal, Spain and Italy following ancient custom between those predominantly Catholic nations and the Vatican.

The day's ceremonies began with the new cardinals taking their oath before French-born Cardinal Tisserant.

Contributions Fall Behind

Salvation Army Seeking $3,000 for Yule Projects

Have you made your Christmas contribution to the Salvation Army?

This is the question officials of the Army are asking as they continue preparations to assist the needy at Christmas, hoping somehow that the $3,000 still needed will be donated by generous Marionites.

Bell ringers at the Salvation Army kettles in downtown Marion have collected only $1,386 so far this year, a smaller amount than last year at this time.

LETTERS SENT to citizens in an appeal for financial help have brought in only $727, Maj. James Hall, citadel commander, reports.

Meanwhile, the number of indigent persons applying for help from the agency grows greater each day.

"We just can't turn them away," Maj. Hall said.

Many of the needy cases are placed on file at the Give-a-Christmas clearinghouse, but others are handled directly by the Army. And when the clearinghouse closes the day before Christmas, all cases which have not yet been cared for fall into the hands of the Army.

Maj. Hall pointed out that Christmas Eve brought 85 new cases to the Salvation Army last year, cases which had not been crossed off the clearinghouse files through contributions.

The welfare agency official estimated that the Army already has 300 cases to handle before Christmas. Most of these, he said, are large families with the father out of work.

WHAT WILL THE money be used for?

Sunshine baskets will go to 1,500 elderly persons, shut-ins and inmates of the Marion Correctional Institution. Scores of packages already are on their way overseas to brighten the holiday for local servicemen and women.

More than 200 families will be given money to buy food for the holiday. They are capable of making wise selections if someone kind enough will place a $10 bill in their hand.

And nearly 100 more cases in the Salvation Army files will be handled with grocery orders delivered personally by the Salvation Army because persons are ill or too feeble to go out and make purchases themselvss.

Equally as necessary to make Christmas a reality for indigent families are clothing to warm thinly clad bodies and toys to show the unfortunate youngster that Santa didn't forget him after all, said Maj. Hall.

Not only new toys and clothing are needed, but used items as well.

"For information concerning the role you may play in bringing someone else a Merry Christmas, contact the Salvation Army today," Maj. Hall urged.

Court Ruling Challenges Ohio Regulation on Inland Boating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A constitutional question has arisen regarding Ohio's inland boating regulations:

If an administrative branch of state government sets up regulations on the use of boats traveling inland waterways, can a person be held guilty of violating such rules?

Judge Charles B. Holtsberry of Licking County Common Pleas Court in Newark says it's a cardinal principle of representative government that the Legislature cannot delegate its power to make laws.

The one exception is when the Ohio Constitution, either expressly or by implication, authorities the delegation of such power to another body of goverment, the judge says.

Holtsberry cited an Ohio Supreme Court ruling that no act is punishable as a crime unless it is a violation of a properly adopted statute or ordinance.

Therefore, when the Ohio Department of Natural Resources sets up regulations on the speed, size and use of boats on inland waterways, and there is no law passed by the Legislature to this effect, can the regulations be legally enforced?

Judge Holtsberry said no in ruling that the department's regulations for lake boating are unconstitutional.

His ruling came in the case of James Pairan of Thornville, who was charged last June with reckless operation of a boat on Buckeye Lake near Newark. Pairan also thinks the regulations are unconstitutional and pleaded not guilty.

Herbert B. Eagon, Natural Resources director, had no immediate comment Wednesday on the judge's decision. But he said the department's park regulations affecting boating were set up under the Administrative Procedures Act, which has been upheld in previous court tests.

A retired farmer, Mr. Mathews had resided south of Upper Sandusky from 1919 to 1956 when he moved to Upper Sandusky. He was a member of the Trinity EUB Church.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Bringman & Co. Funeral Home with the Rev. Lynn Harris, pastor of the Trinity Church, officiating. Burial will be in York Street Cemetery in Jackson Township, Wyandot County. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 3:30 to 5:30 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Submits Only Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Altland Plumbing & Heating Co. of Massillon submitted the only bid Wednesday for supplying additional water service facilities at Massillon State Hospital. The bid was $19,985, against the state estimate of $22,629.

Woman Fined $50

Pauline Smith, 38, of 203 Fleetwood St. was fined $50 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Wednesday on a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct. She was arrested at 12:45 a.m. Wednesday on W. Mill St.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

Four persons were slightly injured in a two-car collision at the intersection of County Roads 156 and 148 eight miles east of Marion at 3:40 p.m. Wednesday, state patrolmen reported today.

They said an eastbound auto driven by Mrs. Frank McClenathan, 59, of near Marion, traveling on County Rd. 148, pulled into the intersection and struck the right side of a soundbound vehicle driven by Curtis G. Rengert, 39, of near Cardington.

The impact sent the Rengert auto off County Rd. 156 into a farm fence owned by C. E. Harris of near Marion.

Injured were Mrs. McClenathan, bruised hip; Etta Cramer, 70, of near Cardington, a passenger in the McClenathan auto, bump on the head; Rengert, bruised left elbow, and Esther Rengert, 37, of near Cardington, a passenger in his car, bruised nose.

Patrolmen said none of the injured required treatment. Mrs McClenathan was charged with failure to yield the right of way. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

Three Mishaps in City

Three minor traffic accidents were investigated by Marion police Wednesday. One mishap occurred at 1:40 p.m. near the intersection of W. Center and S. Porspect streets and involved cars driven by Mary K. Seiter, 44, of near Marion and Thomas L. Cochrun, 35, of Akron.

Each of the other accidents in the city caused less than $100 total damage, Marion police estimated.

year-old, still believe in Santa Claus. But, as she explains to them, Santa might be unable to find their small home this year.

The three boys are avid cowboy fans and hope to find gun and holster sets when they awaken Christmas morning.

The two older girls admire the "Tiny Tears" dolls as they pass colorful Christmas store windows.

Little sister, although she is too small to utter a request, is not being forgotten on her older brother and sisters' Christmas lists. They want their baby sister to have a Raggedy Ann doll

Needy cases like the C family offer a real opportunity for meaningful Christmas giving.

The joy of sharing blessings with a deserving family like this can be multiplied many times as the faces of each member beam in grateful appreciation.

With Christmas just one week away, many cases still remain on file at the Give-a-Christmas clearinghouse, cases which cannot be removed unless conscientious and thoughtful citizens reach into their pockets to help.

Cash donations especially are needed to fulfill the needs of the remaining cases on file, Mrs. Howard Williams, chairman of the Junior Service Guild project, reported today.

Clothing and toys, too, are in great demand. Not only new items will be welcomed, but usable second hand articles as well, she explained.

Every one of the cases on file at clearinghouse headquarters has been attested for need by a local social or welfare agency.

The clearinghouse keeps a record of the indigent families and individuals and through its filing system avoids duplication of giving so that the needs of a greater number may be met.

Weather Halts Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cold weather, which puts a crimp in outdoor work, is pushing Ohio unemployment upward. As of last Saturday, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports, 94,163 Ohioans were receiving jobless benefits, an increase of more than 10,000 in the last two weeks.

students in the school auditorium.

Cast members with lead roles are Jack Woller, Cheryl Windom, Frank Warner and Barbara Burton.

Also featured are Janet Haley, Douglas Laucher, Becky Snyder, Janice Kinsler and Linda Purdy.

Balloons in Santa's toyshop will be depicted by second grade girls; jumping jacks and whirling tops by second grade boys; candy kids by first grade boys, tin soldiers by third grade boys; nurse dolls by first grade girls and fairies by third grade girls. Students in grades four through six form the 125 member chorus.

Santa's toyshop is the scene of activity. Mrs. Santa has just bid her husband goodbye as he sets out for the homes of good children on Christmas Eve. She then uses her wishing cap to make all the remaining toys happy at their plight of being left behind. The toys come alive and frolic happily about the shop.

Costumes for the production were made by elementary teachers and mothers. The pageant is under the direction of Ted Pollock, music supervisor, and elementary teachers.

House Closes Election Study In Minnesota

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coya Knutson kicked off her high-heeled pumps, put on some old comfortable flats and avowed she had no bitterness or sorrow in defeat.

A House committee had decided against investigating further her complaint that she lost her bid for re-election to Congress from Minnesota because of a malicious conspiracy.

The 45-year-old Democrat contended political foes were behind her husband's widely publicized "Coya come home" appeal.

"Of course you feel hurt, you know," she told a reporter who came to her office Wednesday after the five-man special House committee decided unanimously "no further action is warranted" in the case.

Can't Feel Sorry

"But I've had a lot of rough things in my life — you can't sit down and feel sorry for yourself, she said. "Sometimes the more you get kicked around the more you can do."

Mrs. Knutson said she knew the demands of public office when she was elected to Congress in 1954. She was re-elected in 1956, but was defeated last month by Republican Odin Langen.

"I know what a woman is up against in a job like this," she said. "I went into it with my eyes open."

Mrs. Knutson said she may take her case to the voters two years from now, in the 1960 election.

She also said she might ask the new Congress in January to investigate. Her chances with such a formal contest seemed slim.

Contributing Cause

In its report, the special committee, set up to consider election complaints and check on campaign spending, agreed that "exploitation of the family life of the Knutsons was a contributing cause of her failure of election."

But the committee said it found no direct evidence involving Langen in any conspiracy to capitalize on the Knutsons' marital woes Langen has said he did not mention those Knutson troubles in his campaign.

But husband Andy Knutson told the committee two days ago that political opponents of his wife duped him into issuing the "Coya come home" plea.

In the interview, Mrs. Knutson declined to say whether she and her husband are living together now. "That's a personal question," she said.

Candidate Spent $663

Charles R. Osborn of Prospect, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for state representative, filed a statement with the Marion County Board of Elections today listing campaign expenses of $663. According to the statement, he received $635 in contributions. Mr. Osborn was defeated by incumbent Republican Kenneth A. Robinson of Marion.

Dulles Denies Report

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today denied Paris newspaper reports that he is expected to re-enter the hospital for an operation.

A statement issued by Asst. Secretary Andrew Berding added that Dulles has almost completely recovered from the inflammatory condition of the colon for which he was treated at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington before he came to Paris.

Russia Denies New Deadline Set for Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Embassy today brushed aside as nonsense reports that Moscow has decided to cut short the six-month period it allowed for negotiations on Berlin.

An official spokesman said the Soviet government is waiting for a reply to its Nov. 27 note before taking further action.

In that note to the Western powers, the Soviets proposed that West Berlin be turned into a demilitarized free city. They declared their intention in six months to end the four-power occupation of Berlin and transfer Soviet controls over Allied supply lines to the East Germans.

The Soviet spokesman in East Berlin made his comment on published reports that Moscow had informed the East Germans of its intention to shorten the six-month period because of the rejection of its Berlin proposals by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers.

The embassy spokesman, in reply to a reporter's questions, did not rule out the possibility that the Soviets might shorten the six-month negotiating period, saying "I am not in a position to say what the next step of my government will be."

St. Louis Case Baffles Police

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A St. Louis University student, run over by a car and apparently shot three times, was found dying Wednesday night in a case that has police baffled.

The student, James S. Bullock, 27, of suburban Richmond Heights, died without speaking. Passing motorists had found him sprawled in a road in front of the City Art Museum.

Police were almost certain two head wounds were from a small caliber weapon and that half a dozen tiny wounds in the chest were from shotgun pellets but were awaiting results of an autopsy today.

A car had passed over both legs.

Police Sgt. Edward Schaaf said, "We have no definite leads."

Robbery was ruled out as a possible motive. Police found $20 in his pockets.

Bullock's car, the engine still running, was found on a gravel lane behind the museum in a secluded section on the west edge of St. Louis. A trail of blood led from the car.

His bride of six months, Etta, 23, said her husband had left home for night classes about half an hour before the body was found. Bullock was employed at the Union Electric Co.

Lucky Birthday

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Every youngster has the idea his birthday is something special. Tom Hinson of nearby Minford was 48 last week and he still thinks so. Last year, he bagged a 12-point deer on his birthday. Last week—again on his birthday— he got an eight-point buck.

Sears To Expand

Pleasant, Prospect Continue Drive for Cage Title

The Star Sports

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1958 THE MARION STAR PAGE 17

Five League Games On Tap This Friday

The Marion County League basketball race has, for all practical purposes, just begun. But, already two teams—Prospect and Pleasant—have served notice on the rest of the loop that they are the quintets to beat for this season's championship.

With all 10 teams slated for action Friday night, the Bulldogs of Coach Fred McCumber and the Pandas of Stan Kirby, defending co-champions of last season's race (along with Caledonia), are the only undefeated league units, both sporting 2-0 records for 1.000 per cent.

PLAY FRIDAY will find Claridon at Green Camp, Caledonia at Ridgedale, New Bloomington at Waldo, Martel at Pleasant and LaRue at Prospect.

MARION COUNTY LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
Prospect	2	0	1.000
Pleasant	2	0	1.000
Caledonia	1	1	.500
Ridgedale	1	1	.500
Claridon	1	1	.500
Green Camp	1	1	.500
New Blooming.	1	1	.500
Martel	1	1	.500
Waldo	0	2	.000
LaRue	0	2	.000

It is, perhaps, too early yet to count any of the teams out of the title picture, but Prospect and Pleasant seem, at this moment, odds-on favorites to battle down to the wire for top laurels.

Six of the county crews—Caledonia, Ridgedale, Claridon, Green Camp and New Bloomington—go into Friday's action with 1-1 marks, while LaRue and Waldo are winless in the brace of games to date. Thus only two games separate the first and last place loop residents.

The top-running position of Prospect and Pleasant rate no surprised looks from most county cage fans, who figured them as "the teams to beat" before the season started. McCumber and Kirby's boys weren't long establishing themselves as quintets to be reckoned with.

To date, Prospect owns a 68-53 victory over Ridgedale and a 68-58 decision over Claridon. Pleasant has downed Waldo, 59-22, and Green Camp, 68-61.

At season's outset, Green Camp was rated the team with the potential to make it hot for the currnt top fives. Dale Kinsell's outfit started out fine, slipping past New Bloomington 53-50. Then, however, came Pleasant and the 68-61 defeat.

RIDGEDALE, with five lettermen on its varsity squad, also appeared to have "what it takes." But Bill Phillips' Rockets had the misfortune of clashing with Prospect in their loop opener. Against Waldo, however, Ridgedale asserted its authority and took a 76-28 win.

Caledonia, although sharing the loop crown last season, wasn't given much of a chance to shine, due primarily, to the fact that only one letterman graced the squad of Mentor Joe Green. The Scots got off on the wrong foot against Claridon and were drubbed, 47-24. Later, however, they bolstered their attack and rode roughshod over Martel, 86-36.

New Bloomington, with four lettermen reporting, promised to give Coach Jim Coffman, a fairly good chance to challenge for the flag. The Rams ran head-on into Kinsell's Green Camp Panthers in their season's opener, though, and dropped a 53-50 game. Then they came back to record a 76-54 triumph over hapless Waldo.

Martel, whose Eagles won but one game last season, also took its first game, pummeling LaRue 63-38, before getting the needle from Caledonia by an 86-36 count.

THE OUTLOOK is decidedly not bright for either Joe Roseberry's LaRue Indians or James Stahl's Waldo Cardinals.

Waldo failed to win a game last season, ending up with an 0-9 loop mark. But LaRue, which finished in a three-way tie for fourth place behind the trio of flag-winners, hung up a creditable 5-4 record.

However, the Indians were belted 63-38 by Martel in their first game, then tumbled to New Bloomington, 76-54. Meanwhile, Waldo took it on the chin from both Pleasant and Ridgedale, by respective 59-22 and 76-28 tallies.

The die has been cast. Prospect and Pleasant are the favored two and it remains for the rest of the loop to play nothing short of top-flight basbketball if they expect to catch the front-runners.

There is no indication whatever that either Prospect or Pleasant will not prevail Friday. The Bulldogs take on LaRue on the Prospect floor, while the Pandas play host to Martel.

Elm Valley Is 85-55 Victor Over Scioto 5

ASHLEY — Scioto Valley's basketballers visited the Elm Valley hardcourt Wednesday night and dropped an 85-55 contest.

The Aces of Coach Robby Roberson, winning their fourth game in five starts, jumped off to a 19-8 first quarter lead, were in the van, 38-26 at halftime, and were atop a 60-41 count after three periods of play.

All told, the Valleyans rimmed Scioto buckets for 34 goals and 17 free throws, compared to 20 and 15 totals for Thad Seeley's Rockets.

Elm Valley counted on 34 of 59 field attempts for roughly 56 per cent and hit 17 of 29 free throw chances for a creditable 59 per cent. The Rockets were good for 15 of 27 charity shots for 56 per cent.

Five of the Aces wound up in double numbers, with Harold Martin topping the list with 18 points. Dick Link got 17, Dan Masters 15, Don Anderson 12 and Larry Powers 11. High scorer for the game, though, was Scioto's Don Stults, whose nine goals and seven free throws were good for 25 points.

Elm Valley won the reserve game by a 65-20 score.

Martin 6-6-18; McGonigle 4-0-8; Link 3-1-17; Masters 7-1-15; Smith 1-2-4; Anderson 6-0-12; Powers 2-7-11.

Banks To Receive Baltimore Award

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ernie Banks, whose 47 home runs for the Chicago Cubs last season set an all-time record for major league shortstops, will receive the "Sultan of Swat" crown here Jan. 12.

Coach Eddie Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles announced Wednesday night Banks had been picked for the honor by the Maryland Professional Baseball Players Assn. Robinson is chairman of the award dinner at which the presentation will be made.

Banks recently was voted the National League's Most Valuable Player award for the 1958 season.

Si Green Sidelined With Brain Illness

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sihugo Green, a former All-America college star, has become the second member of the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn. to be laid low by an apparent brain ailment.

Specialists said Wednesday they believe that Green, who has been in a hospital here since Dec. 9, has a blood clot on the brain and that surgery may be necessary.

Maurice Stokes, one of the top NBA rebounders, has lain—never more than partly conscious—since last spring with an ailment diagnosed as encephalopathy, a form of brain disease.

Irish Visit Ridgedale

Harding To Battle Findlay Hoopsters

Conference and non-conference actions face Harding and Marion Catholic basketballers respectively this week, with the Prexies of Don Knodel clashing with a visiting Findlay quintet Friday and the Irish of Ray Robbins traveling across county to Ridgedale Saturday.

It will be the second Buckeye Conference outing for the Presidents, who dropped their first try at a loop victory Friday night, losing to Sandusky 58-51. Prior to that encounter, Knodel's squad had won three straight, clipping Kenton, Columbus Aquinas and Shelby.

The Robbinsmen will be seeking their first victory in five starts against Bill Phillips' Rocket cagers. Woefully shy on experience, the Irish have lost to Upper Sandusky, Elm Valley, Tiffin Calvert and Mount Gilead.

BOTH HARDING and Marion Catholic will be facing formidable opponents in this week's action.

Coach Bob Werley's Trojans, rated, at season's outset, a good bet to battle Elyria for the conference crown, ran head-on into the Pioneers Friday and were drubbed 54-44. Thus the two quintets will be seeking to regain the victory trail after suffering loop downfalls.

Ridgedale, with five lettermen on its starting lineup, has a creditable 3-1 record over-all, with a 1-1 Marion County League mark. The Rockets have lost only to Prospect while winning over Waldo, Wharton and Radnor.

Knodel, after studying his charts of the Prexy defeat at Sandusky, asserted that offensive mistakes and a general let-down on fundamentals contributed to his team's defeat. Among other things, Prexy ball handlers made 17 bad passes and were held to a skimpy 46 shots from the field, canning 18 of those for a completion percentage of 39.

Robbins is still in a quandary as to which of his varsity players are the ones destined to get the faltering Irish bandwagon rolling. Three lettermen grace the starting Catholic quintet, but only one of them, 6-6 Tom Rish, was a regular starter on last season's squad.

TO DATE, the Robbinsmen have scored only 172 points in four games, an average of 43 per outing. They have allowed their oponens 250, about 63 per contest. Said Robbins earlier this week: "We look so much better in practice than we do in actual game play that it seems certain that we will yet break loose and begin to look like a competent ball team."

Harding has been doing fine from a scoring point of view. The Prexies, with Knodel in his first year at the Harding helm, have rolled 257 points through opponents' hoops, an average of a shade over 64 per game. Meanwhile, the Harding defense has allowed 195 digits racked up against it, roughly 49 points each fracas.

Findlay will invade the Harding hardcourt intent on jumping back into Buckeye loop flag contention at the expense of the Presidents. A defeat by the visiting Trojans would do anything but enhance the Prexy's chances in the championship race, giving them an 0-2 mark with eight games left. Prior to falling to Elyria, Findlay clouted, in order, Berea, Defiance and Mansfield.

Marion Catholic will probably find the going rugged in its attempt to down Ridgedale on the Rocket's floor. "But," says Robbins, "if we can just loosen up and begin hitting once, our job will be much simpler and perhaps we can get that first win the boys need so badly."

Ray McLean Quits As Packer Coach

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Ray (Scooter) McLean resigned Wednesday after a single season as head coach of the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Last summer McLean forecast his team had "as good a chance as any" for the league title and declared, "We're going to shoot the moon."

The launching never took place and the countdown produced only a 1-10-1 record and last place in the Western Conference. It was the poorest showing in the 40-year history of the Packers.

McLean accepted an offer to become backfield coach of the Detroit Lions under his longtime friend, George Wilson.

Nevada Captures Lead In Tri-County Loop Play

The Nevada Merchants took over sole possession of first place in the Tri-County League basketball race Wednesday night, whipping Waldo Supply by a 94-62 margin.

It was the third straight victory without a loss for the Nevada. The Waldo squad has three wins to go with the Wednysday night defeat.

Hunt Milling bumped Pleasant 73-71 in the other league game to move into a third place tie with Gulliford Hardware. Both teams have 2-1 marks in league action.

LaRue currently holds down the fifth spot with two wins and two setbacks. Hilborn Sunoco is sixth with a 1-2 record, Pleasant rests in seventh place with a 1-4 and Wilson Auctioneers are in the cellar with four straight defeats.

Hopes for Dry Field

Brown Is Pleased At Team's Morale

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul E. Brown may have problems, but team morale, he says, is not one of them.

Asked about the mental attitude of the Cleveland Browns, who are sharpening up their attack for Sunday's do-or-die game against the New York Giants, Brown said: "It's one thing I'm not worried about.

"Sure the fellows felt badly about losing," Brown continued, "but they know they played a darn fine football game."

Hope for Dry Field

Brown joined the Giants in hoping for a dry field in Yankee Stadium, and his reasoning sounded similar to that of Vince Lombardi, offensive coach for the Giants.

"We have more team speed in my opinion so a bad field hurts us more," said Brown. "I believe the Giants are a shade bigger."

Lombardi, on the other hand, told reporters in New York the Giant offense relies more on quick cuts rather than power. The heavy going was made to order for (Jimmy) Brown with the heavy middle of the Cleveland line."

Asked if any major changes are contemplated by the Browns, Coach Brown remarked:

"We're certainly not going to panic or go berserk because we lost a football game. We're making adjustments and some changes as we always do."

There was no sign of dejection in the Browns' dressing quarters at League Park, where practice sessions are held. The feeling of the team may have been best expressed by Ray Renfro, veteran pass receiver from Texas.

"I'd like to be playing them this afternoon," said Renfro. "I guess I've never felt so bad after a football game.

Shoot for Championship

"It was tough after the championship loss in Detroit last season. This time, though, we're getting another chance." The Browns must win Sunday to take the Eastern Division title and get into the National Football League championship game against the Baltimore Colts Dec. 28.

Another player chimed in: "With that title game money riding on this one don't worry about the spirit of this squad.

"We'll be ready for the Giants." Brown said last Sunday's game, won 13-10 by the Giants, "probably was one of our best efforts."

"Down deep," said Brown, "I still think we won. The boys feel the same way. We know we should have had the football after that fumble. That's part of the game we're in, though, and we accept it, get it out of our minds and go on."

The "fumble" Brown referred to was called an incomplete pass by head linesman Charley Berry. Brown says Frank Gifford caught Chuck Conerly's pass, then dropped it. Walt Michaels of the Browns fell on the ball. On the next and last down Pat Summerall of the Giants booted the 49-yard field goal that won the game.

"Last Sunday we didn't get the break we waited for," said Brown, "but maybe it will come this Sunday. This game takes funny twists."

Corum Rites Slated

NEW YORK (AP) — Funeral services were planned here today for Bill Corum, sports columnist for the New York Journal-American and president of Churchill Downs race track in Louisville, site of the annual Kentucky Derby.

Corum died Tuesday night of lung cancer at the age of 63.

Following services, the body will be taken to Boonville, Mo., for burial.

Hardin-Simmons coach Sammy Baugh starred for TCU in the 1937 Cotton Bowl game. One of his forward passes accounted for a touchdown play of 55 yards.

Seek Second Title

Local Swimmers Prepare For Relays Here Monday

Marion YMCA swimmers have been putting the final touches on their techniques in preparation for the second annual Marion Swimming Relays next Monday.

The entry list has been limited to members of the Ohio YMCA Swim League and a few guest teams with Lima, Mansfield, Springfield, Findlay, Toledo and Columbus associations expected to complete the entries.

The Marion team is the defending champion with three age group titles in its possession. Toledo holds the prep championship and finished second last year in a very close battle with the locals. Coach Warren Foster predicts this year's meet will be a record breaking event. Swimming has become "the most popular winter sport among the area YMCA's, he said.

The meet is being sponsored by the Marion Aquatic Club and a number of local businesses with trophies being offered to all the members of each winning relay, the age group champs, and the overall team champion. Officials will be members of the local aquatic club made up of the parents of "Y" swimmers.

Every member of the local squad is expected to see action in the 21 events but the locals will still be outmanned by a number of the entries. Removal of a few swimmers for disciplinary reasons plus colds has weakened the Marion tank squad his season.

Shovel Squad Takes Win in Overtime Play

Marion Power Shovel squeezed past McMillen 43-41 and Technical Services clipped General Telephone 35-32 in Industrial League cage action Wednesday night at the YMCA.

In other contests, Pollak Steel registered a 70-54 win over Cardington and Whirlpool nailed a 58-42 victory over Goodyear in a game which was stopped in the third quarter due to excessive roughness.

Marion Power Shovel was forced into sudden death overtime before nipping the McMillen squad. McMillen held an 8-7 lead after one period and was out front 19-14 at the half. The losers held a 30-25 lead at the end of three periods. The score was knotted at 37-37 at the end of regulation time and 41-all after the first overtime. Clair Hensel, who led the MPS scoring with 22 points, dropped in a pair of free throws for the sudden death win. Jim Kirk was high for the losers with 16.

Gary Wynn popped in 10 markers to lead the Technical Service squad to its win. England and Taylor each had eight for the losing Telephone crew. The winners trailed 5-4 after one quarter, 15-11 at the half and 19-18 at the three-quarter mark.

Four cagers hit in double figures to lead Pollak to its romp against Cardington. Arley Williams finished with a 23-point production while Gene Jessie had 20. Dick Mounts 19 and Frank Jessie 16. Clyde Jenkins' 16 was tops for the Cardington crew.

Whirlpool jumped into an early lead and was never headed in its game against Goodyear which was stopped by roughness. The winners led 24-13 at the quarter, 32-26 at the half and 58-42 when play was halted. Larry Hickman had 17 points for the victors while Roger McCombs scored 18 for Goodyear.

SPORT SHORTS
. . . Off the Cuff

By JOHN SHORT

The busiest high school organization in Marion County is the Ridgedale High School Athletic Club, and the group has a definite goal in mind.

SHORT

Composed of students at Ridgedale High School, the club is devoting its energies toward raising funds to cover the costs of a giant expansion in Ridgedale's athletic program.

Several fund-raising projects already have been staged and more are planned throughout the year. Purpose of the united effort is to insure Ridgedale an eight-man football team next fall. Original plans called for a full 11 - man squad but school officials decided to play in eight-man competition for a few years in order to give the students in the Ridgedale district a little experience.

"WE HAD TWO ways to go," Fred Goare, Ridgedale superintendent, reported. "We could have played a reserve schedule in 11-man or go into 8-man play immediately." The latter course was chosen to insure no loss of interest on the part of the student body.

"We may not be able to pick up a full schedule of games for next year," Mr. Goare said, but added that the Rocket gridders definitely will be in there swinging. Application will be made for membership in the Double M League, which also is switching to 8-man play next year.

A PRACTICE area already has been graded and seeded and the athletic club hopes to collect sufficient funds to start work on the varsity field soon. However, Mr. Goare expects the Rockets to play all their games on the road next season.

"We definitely hope to have the field ready for play by the following year," the Ridgedale executive head added.

Actually, if present plans are completed Ridgedale will be competing in five varsity sports. In addition to football, basketball, track and baseball, the school hopes to begin competition in golf.

In addition to the football field and track, if enough funds are available at least one or two putting greens will be constructed in the school's athletic area. The baseball field already is built. The Rockets, of course, lay claim to the finest gym in the Marion County League.

To date all the funds have been collected by the high school athletic club.

ONLY ONE dark spot appears on the Ridgedale athletic horizon. Mr. Goare admits the school could be forced into Class AA athletic competition in the near future. The 210 students in the top four grades include 110 boys.

Based on present enrollment figures, Goare says next year's enrollment may total 230-240 with 120-130 boys. A total of 150 boys would force the school into the Class AA bracket.

That situation, however, is not one faced by Ridgedale alone. Schools throughout the state are facing growing enrollments and the Ohio High School Athletic Association may find itself with a reclassification problem.

The name of Arkansas is a derivation of the name of the Quapaw Indians.

Meeker's 8th Graders Roll Past Morral 34-22

Meeker's eighth grade basketball team registered a 34-22 decision over the Morral eighth graders Thursday at the winners' floor.

The Morral squad assumed a 7-4 edge in the first stanza and was leading 15-14 at the halfway mark. Morral failed to score during third quarter action and Meeker went into the final frame with a 26-15 cushion.

Levings sparked the Mecker attack with 19 points while Steve Sharp was high for Morral with 11.

Steubenville's Cagers Romp Over Alliance

By The Associated Press

Ohio colleges triumphed in four of five basketball games with out-of-state teams Wednesday night.

Toledo's Rockets went on a scoring spree and defeated Western Michigan 106-84, Dayton's unbeaten Flyers chalked up their fifth straight win 93-77 over Texas Southern, unbeaten Steubenville swamped Alliance College of Cambridge Springs, Pa. 90-55, and Oscar Robertson and his Cincinnati Bearcats, rated No. 1 in the nation, plastered College of The Pacific 112-66.

Dayton's Frank Case also had a wild scoring night, dropping in 37 points, the most he ever got in one game in his college career. It was Texas Southern's first loss in five starts.

Sophomore Jerry Galicki paced Toledo with 28 points as the Rockets posted their second straight Mid-American Conference victory. They stand 4-5 for the season.

Steubenville posted its 31st straight victory over a two-season span and its 58th in a row at home in routing Alliance. Steubenville is now 8-0 for the season.

In the only other interstate action, the University of Louisville handed Wittenberg its first loss of the season against four victories. Louisville had a 10-point margin at halftime but Wittenberg chopped away and the score at the final buzzer was 56-49. The losing Tigers outshot the Kentuckians from the field, posting a 42.6 per cent average to Louisville's 34.5 per cent.

In three games on the home front, Denison came up with its third straight Ohio Conference victory 77-68 over Ohio Wesleyan, Bluffton got its first Mid - Ohio League win 72-67 over Findlay, and Marietta, 3-2 for the season, handed winless Kenyon its fourth straight loss 71-51 in an Ohio Conference fray.

Boats Find Worst Ice in Years On Western End of Lake Erie

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Coast Guard says the worst ice conditions in years are disrupting navigation at the western end of Lake Erie.

Two vessels with damaged steering gear, the Henry R. Platt and Collinwood, needed assistance from Coast Guard cutters and commercial tugs. Both are being towed to Toledo, with the Platt expected there about noon today.

The Coast Guard said the cutter Ojibwa put in to Detroit for repair of minor damage sustained in the battle with drifting ice, which is 10 feet thick in spots.

The Ojibwa was assisting the giant 10,000 horsepower Mackinaw and the cutters Tupelo, Acacia, and Mesquite in forging channels through the ice.

Said Captain Oliver A. Peterson, ninth district chief of staff:

"The records indicate this is the greatest concentration of Coast Guard ice breaking assistance ever required in a single area during the December closing of navigation on the Great Lakes."

Several freighters have been maneuvering since last Sunday to escape ice in the Livingstone Channel at the southern end of the Detroit River, Pelee Passage, Middle Ground and near Toledo Harbor.

School Study Units Set Up in Crawford

BUCYRUS — In a brief meeting Wednesday night Crawford County Board of Education members approved personnel of two 15-member committees to study curriculum and teacher personnel problems.

County board president Ralph Worden is chairman of the teach-personnel committee and board member Clifford Hoover heads the curriculum committee. Each committee consists of five members of local school boards, five lay members and five educators.

The committees will hold their first meeting at Sulphur Springs on Thursday night, Jan. 22.

County Supt. Edwin C. Treherne was authorized to attend the Northwestern Ohio County Superintendents' meeting at Bowling Green Jan. 7, a State Board of Education meeting in Columbus Jan 12 and the American Association of School Administrators meeting in Atlantic City, N.J., Feb. 14-18.

Mr. Treherne told the board that the state board is to rule Jan 12 on a recommendation of a state school inspector that Whetstone High School be discontinued. Mr Treherne and the Whetstone board members plan to attend the meeting in Columbus. The board will meet next on Jan. 17 for a combined reorganization and monthly meeting

Boosted 10 Per Cent

AT&T Hikes Dividend After 3-for-1 Stock Split

By WARREN BENNETT
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A newsboy from Port Chester, N.Y., an Oklahoma Indian princess and a University of California professor have one thing in common today — a sizable paper profit on their stock in American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Directors of the world's biggest public utility recommended a 3-for-1 stock split and a 10 per cent hike in the dividend Wednesday. It's the first stock split in company history and the first dividend change in 37 years.

Company directors said the split would strengthen the position of the company in obtaining large amounts of equity capital needed for expansion. They expect the split will widen the market for the stock.

Sends Stock Booming

The proposal sent AT&T stock skyrocketing on the New York Stock Exchange. An avalanche of buying orders forced suspension of trading. When trading resumed 1½ hours later, the stock was up $23 at $225, breaking a 27-year high. It closed at $223, up $21 on the day, on a volume of 110,200 shares.

AT&T closed at $223.75, up $23.75 on the Pacific Coast Exchange.

What does this mean to the newsboy, the Indian princess or the college professor? They probably won't take down their paper profits by selling. They've held their AT&T stock five years or more.

They are part of AT&T's 1,625,800 shareowners. This is the biggest corporate family in the world, greater than the combined total of owners in the three next biggest concerns: General Motors Corp., Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) and General Electric Co.

Many Small Investors

These three are among the 812,900 little investors who have held 15 shares or less of AT&T stock for five years or more.

If one of the trio, for instance, had purchased 10 shares at the 1954 low of $156 a share, it would have cost him $1,560, plus broker fees. In five years, he would have collected $450 in dividends.

On 10 shares he could have collected $2,230, less broker fees, at Wednesday night's New York closing price. That's a capital gain in five years of $670.

He probably wouldn't sell though. Because if he and the other stockholders approve the proposed stock-split at the next annual meeting on April 15, his 10 shares will become 30. And his dividends would increase from $90 a year on 10 shares to $99 a year on 30 shares.

Woman Dies in Fire

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Marguerite Marcus, 42, perished today in a fire at a rooming house.

Firemen said she was occupying the room of a friend, who is in a hospital. They said the blaze was caused by Mrs. Marcus smoking in bed

Mrs. Marcus' body was found in a closet. Firemen said she apparently ran into the closet, thinking she was escaping into the hallway.

Will Treat Children

ASHLEY — The Ashley Merchants will treat all children of the community at the lighted tree at East High and Main streets Saturday afternoon and evening, Dec. 20.

3 Students Fined At Muskingum in Bomb Scare Note

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP) — Three Muskingum College students have been fined in Mayor's Court here on charges stemming from a note that touched off a bomb scare in two girl's dormitories.

Charged with sending a threatening letter through the mails, a misdemeanor, were Derke Esler, 21, of Tarentum, Pa.; Tom Earley 19, of Dover, Ohio, and Terry Schoener, 25, of Pittsburgh

Esler, a sophomore, admitted the charge and was fined $50 and costs Wednesday night by Mayor J. K. Taylor. Earley, also a sophomore, and Schoener, a junior, denied the charge but were found guilty and fined $25 each.

Authorities evacuated both dormitories Nov. 18. Muskingum officials received a note made up from letters clipped from a magazine. The note said in part: "Prepare for eternity. A bomb is going to explode at 11 a.m."

Authorities described the incident as strictly a prank.

Strike in 13th Day

'Equal or Better' Than 1957

U.S. Retailers Surveyed On Christmas Business

By WALTER BREEDE JR.
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Christmas business will equal last year and may be a little better. But it's not running away."

This cautiously phrased comment from M. E. Arnett, vice president of Bullock's Department Store in Los Angeles, typifies the attitude of hundreds of retailers across the country interviewed by The Associated Press in a survey of Christmas business prospects.

Most are confident of beating last year's record totals (thanks in part to slightly higher prices and an extra shopping day). But few see anything that resembles a real boom.

'More Cash in Town'

"There's more cash in town this year," says Charles E. Boyd of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, "but people aren't spending the money."

Brightest spot on the 1958 Christmas retail scene is Texas.

"There's no doubt but that the buying public has the money and a disposition to spend it," declares a merchant in Fort Worth. "To say business is good is putting it mildly, for if it gets any better it will be terrific."

And an Abilene, Tex., store official states: "If it was any better I don't know what I'd do."

Christmas business is good in Denver. High on the list of wanted merchandise are such relatively costly items as stereophonic hi-fi sets, pianos, organs, outboard motors and boats.

Hope To Equal '57 Sales

But in Cleveland, Pittsburgh and New Orleans, merchants hope to match last year's sales but are not sure they will.

In the nation's biggest city, New York, the 1958 Christmas shopping outlook is a giant question mark. A newspaper deliverers' strike robbed New York stores of their major sales promotion medium right at the peak of the Christmas rush.

Big retailers say they've been doing as well or better than last year but they're comparing current business with a brutally tough 1957 period when traffic was snarled by a subway strike. Most say telephone and mail order business — which amounts to 15 per cent of total Christmas sales — is down sharply.

Store traffic held up fairly well in the early days of the newspaper blackout but declined as the strike entered its second week. Another strike-inspired problem: How to get rid of specially priced gift items the stores had intended to push via spectacular sales campaigns. Warehouses are bursting with merchandise of this type.

Wesleyan Faculty, Students To Meet President Friday

DELAWARE—Students and faculty members of Ohio Wesleyan University will meet their new president, Dr. David A. Lockmiller, for the first time Friday.

Dr. Lockmiller, his wife and daughter, Carlotta, will be honored with a reception from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Memorial Union. The faculty will welcome the new president and his family at a dinner that evening. The Lockmillers' son, Russell, will not make the trip to Ohio with his family.

Dr. Lockmiller is expected to take office around Feb. 1 as the tenth president of Ohio Wesleyan. He succeeds Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, who became Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare August 1.

A native of Athens, Tenn., Dr. Lockmiller has been president of the University of Chattanooga for the past 16 years. He practiced law for five years before he entered the field of higher education in 1934. He is the author of five books and in 1953 was named as Chattanooga's Man of the Year for his service to that community.

Admits Theft of Fees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Virginia L. Meeks, 22, of Columbus, was arrested Wednesday and admitted embezzling $700 in student fees from the bursar's office at Ohio State University, the State Highway Patrol said.

Cpl. William George, who investigated the case for the patrol, said embezzlement charges probably will be filed against her.

He said she admitted taking the money because she was heavily in debt, and said that she spent all of it.

News of Servicemen

Airman James E. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay C. Williams of 574 Polk St., has been assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command at Francis E. Warren Air Force Base in Wyoming for training and duty as an administrative clerk.

James Williams

A 1958 graduate of Harding High School, he enlisted in the Air Force for four years on Aug. 14. He recently completed basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. He was home on a 12-day furlough last month.

Airmen at Lackland are assigned directly to a duty station from basic training on the basis of interests and aptitudes.

Pfc. Thomas E. Mercer, son of Mrs. Dwight L. Ruby of 476 Uncapher Ave., recently spent a 20-day leave at his home before departing for duty with the American Embassy in French Morocco.

Pvt. Mercer formerly was stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C., where he was a member of the Marine drum and bugle corps. Prior to leaving Camp Lejeune, he qualified as an expert rifleman with the M1 rifle.

His mother accompanied him to the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where he departed aboard the USS Rose early this month for his new duty station. He enlisted in the Marines in July, 1957, after he was graduated from Harding High School.

Bucyrus Firemen Try To Stop False Alarms

BUCYRUS — In an effort to cut down on the number of false alarms turned into the Bucyrus Fire Department, Fire Chief Ralph Mead announced here today he has made arrangements with the Bucyrus Telephone Co. to hold the line on all fire calls telephoned to the department.

The arrangement is expected to enable the company and the department to trace the source of the call. Chief Mead said his department has received a number of false fire calls over the telephone in recent months.

10-Point Program Prepared By Traffic Safety Committee

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A blueprint for action to reduce traffic slaughter is being submitted to Ohio's incoming legislators.

In the words of the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee, which is mailing its 10-point plan to legislators:

"It is truly an outline of legislation for survival through traffic safety in Ohio, developed and keynoted by citizen action."

The recommendations were adopted last June by 300 delegates to the committee's action conference.

The program calls for:

1. Uniform traffic laws. 2. Coordination of heads of departments concerned with traffic safety, to study these problems on state and local levels. 3. Standardization of traffic accident reports, which would include more data. 4. Compulsory driver education courses in high schools or driver training schools for youths under 18, such courses to be supported by state grants.

5. Establishing a state safety center with public funds. 6. Requiring all new policemen in Ohio to take training courses at the safety center. 7. Uniform traffic tickets. 8. More strict requirements to get and retain a driver's license. 9. Periodic motor vehicle inspection. 10. Authorizing county commissioners to give county safety councils financial aid.

Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

Esteban is seeking help to stop the professor from releasing poison gas on Christmas Day which will kill all the fairies. With the help of the Snuke, he has reached Santa Land. He runs toward Santa's house shouting, "Santa! Santa!"

Chapter 13

SEARCH FOR THE HAG

Santa stared at the boy who came running toward him across the snow.

"It's Esteban!" he exclaimed. "The elf who lost his wings! What has happened? You look frightened half to death!"

"Oh, I am," gasped Esteban. "I have terrible news. There is hardly any time left and there is a man who is going to destroy all fairies on Christmas Day!"

Then Esteban told Santa the whole story of the Hangdog Hag's spell and the professor's plan to destroy them all.

"How awful!" cried Santa.

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" he murmured, puffing distractedly on his pipe. Suddenly he turned away "Come, there is no time to lose!"

"Where are we going?"

"To the home of the Hangdog Hag," said Santa. "We must persuade her to break the spell over the professor's wife."

HE STRODE away with Esteban at his heels. "Hitch up the sleigh!" he ordered when they arrived at the stables.

"What are you thinking of?" cried Patrick Tweedleknees, who was the oldest dwarf in Santa Land and who this year was in charge of the reindeer. "The deer mustn't go out now. They must rest to be ready for Christmas!"

"If I don't take them out now, there won't be any Christmas," replied Santa. And he himself began harnessing the deer while Tweedleknees wrung his hands.

A few minutes later Santa and Esteban were flying through the sky headed for the home of the Hangdog Hag. They arrived, at last, on the very tip-top of a far-away mountain where a one-room shack stood silent and alone.

BUT ALAS! When they opened the door they found the shack empty.

"She's been long gone," groaned Santa. "And it looks as though she doesn't plan to return."

It was true. Every piece of furniture had been smashed. The windows were broken and even the brooms were lying in shreds.

Santa Told the People of Fairyland About the Great Peril.

Heavy-hearted, Santa and Esteban returned to the sleigh and made the sad trip back to Santa Land. There, Tweedleknees glared at them furiously as he unharnessed the deer.

But Santa ignored his bad humor. "Send a message to the Queen Fairy," he ordered. "Tell her to come at once. Send the same message to all the fairy folk you can reach."

TWEEDLEKNEES' mouth fell open. He understood, at last, that there was trouble—big trouble—for only once in a hundred years did Santa send such a message to fairy folk. Tweedleknees rushed away to send out the alarm in Fairyland's own secret language.

Within a few hours there arrived at Santa's door an army of goblins and imps and witches and elves. Santa told them the story of their great peril and the little folk listened and trembled.

"What shall we do?" they whispered.

"We must find the Hangdog Hag," said Santa. "That is why I have called you here. Who has seen the Hag or heard of her or knows where she can be?"

"I saw her lately crossing the moors to the land where witches live," said a weeping will-o'-the-wisp.

"I carried her across the witches' river," exclaimed a tiny elf boatman.

"She's with you then!" exclaimed Santa turning to the witches.

But the witches sadly shook their heads and the oldest, crookedest witch stepped forward and croaked, "She's gone."

"Gone where?" cried Santa.

"To the moon," whispered the witch in a cracking voice.

Efficiency of U.S. Greenhouse Operations Lauded by Briton

CLEVELAND (AP)—The efficiency of the greenhouse industry in the United States has drawn praise here from an English greenhouse vegetable grower.

"You get by with less help," said A. J. Wills, who ended a week-long visit to Cleveland Friday. "That's one of our biggest problems," he added.

Wills, head of A. R. Wills, Ltd., of Romsey, Hampshire, which operates 16 acres of vegetable and floral greenhouses, said the efficiency of labor-saving devices was the chief impression he gained in visits to a dozen greenhouses here.

He attended meetings of the Vegetable Growers Assn. of America convention and the founding meeting of the American chapter of the International Vegetable Growers Assn.

In a talk to the Cleveland Farmers' Club, Wills voiced approval of America's neatly squared farms.

"Our fields are like roads," he said. "They roll and wind. It gives the land a picturesque look but makes it difficult to work."

Wills financed his trip by selling an 11-year-old planting of willow trees for cricket bats.

Women Fill Important Posts at Missile Center

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP) — About one-fifth of the 9,000 persons working for the Army Missile Test Center, the Naval Ordnance Missile Test Facility and private industry contractors at this proving ground are women. Members of the fairer sex hold down jobs ranging from technical and engineering positions in the guided missile program to clerical and stenographic work.

HANDY GIFT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Good Samaritan Society of Washington, a Catholic lay group, has given the nuns who operate the Angel Guardian Orphanage in Japan an unusual gift — a tractor. It'll help them raise more food on their farm for the children cared for at the orphanage.

Agricultural Revolution in Dixie

Corn Replaces Cotton in Deep South

By RALPH McGILL
Editor, the Atlanta Constitution

ATLANTA (NANA) — So rank a heresy was it that the paper seemed to burn my fingers and I could have sworn a faint blue snake curled off the page.

Research director George D. Scarseth, of the American Farm Research Association, had calmly, perhaps cheerfully, told the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation at Boston that in the years ahead planting of cotton would be abandoned.

"Cotton," he said, "is a great crop to stand abuses in production. It fits well with unskilled field labor, but machines and politics in farming have helped fill our warehouses beyond our needs." Many foreign lands, he pointed out, are developing their cotton production and closing our markets.

AT THIS point director Scarseth peered into the U.S. agricultural future and envisioned it cottonless.

"Basically cotton is cellulose. Can future man afford to use food land for cellulose?" he asked. Immediately he answered his own query.

"My reaction is that in the long pull people in an expanding economy will want this land for food. The hills and mountains can make cellulose with trees. Besides, cellulose is a byproduct of our feed grains and could be a valuable byproduct. Corn will become more important in the old cotton belt."

There it is—the traditional shadow no larger than a research man's vision.

It was heresy, and reading it, one waited apprehensively for the Jovian bolt. But it did not come. The odds are—though the years will be many—Dr. Scarseth will be proved an accurate prophet. It is on its face incredibly fantastic to suggest that cotton is on the way out—to be replaced by trees and a cellulose byproduct of feed grains, probably amylose corn.

The last 20 years have seen the grain elevators appear in the Cotton South. The automobile tourist comes on them, even, in the great flat rich delta of the Mississippi, rising unbelievably out of the legend-hidden acres historically dedicated to cotton.

Corn can be grown in most of the United States. But it might also be said that God made the Midwest just to grow corn. It has all the advantages. It lies in the temperate zone, is humid, not dry-hot It has a good average annual rainfall and drought is rare.

The Southwest Plains are handicapped by hot, dry winds. These sometimes steady currents often interfere with pollination, and reduce production—even in irrigated corn.

The old Cotton South has fewer liabilities. There is more humid heat, almost no hot, drying winds. But there is almost always a summer drought. It sometimes is of considerable intensity and duration. Irrigation is a possible solution. But this increases costs. Climbing weeds, like morning glory, are a serious pest in Dixie corn fields and a problem to be solved.

But hybrid corn breeders are busy. In all the cotton states there are corn experiments—many of long duration, which show promise of resisting drought.

THE AVERAGE citizen has no idea of the romance of hybrid corn. Seeds are tested for the Southeast's long hot summer. They then are taken to Arizona or New Mexico and tested across two or more years in the dry, desertlike heat in an effort to find a drought-resistant quality. Then back they come to the fields where once cotton grew for more experiments.

Seven years is about as short as one may cut this sort of search. And then one must be lucky. Ten or a dozen years of experimenting on one hybrid variety are not unusual.

Corn already is replacing cotton.

Whether Dr. Scarseth's prophecy comes true is something for the future.

CAMPUS EVANGELISM

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Baptist convention is making plans for a "daring, new, incisive" campus evangelism program during the 1959-60 academic year, says the Rev. Joseph D. Ban, director of the denomination's "Mission to the Academic Community."

Church Group Opposes Seating for Red China

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — The National Assn. of Evangelicals has protested the recent action taken by the World Order Conference, sponsored by the National Council of Churches, favoring U. S. recognition of Communist China and its admission to the United Nations. This viewpoint, the NAE said, "does not represent the true sentiment of masses of members of American churches."

Ringside Seat for Uprising

Red Chinese Rebellion Seen in 'Sleepy' Macao

MACAO (NANA) — This geopolitical anachronism — a snip of old-world Portugal on the coast of Red China — is one of the few places in the free world to have witnessed a rebellion against communism.

The reported uprising on the Red Chinese island of Lappa took place only a few hundred yards from this colony's 200,000 people. Viewers here say they witnessed the execution of three of the islands' farmers who took part in the miniature rebellion.

The Lappa rebellion had few, if any, repercussions here. For the people of Macao live in a world of their own, and it is a strange one. After 401 years, the formalities of Portuguese officialdom and the rites of Roman Catholicism exist side by side with the sights, sounds, smells of teeming China.

Macao, even more so than the British Colony of Hong Kong 40 miles eastward, exists only by Communist Chinese sufferance. It is administered by one of the lesser powers of Europe and it no longer is a serious rival to Hong Kong as a commercial entrepot.

BUT IT IS convenient to Red China for the opium trade. Truckloads of the drug are driven freely across the Macao border, for immense profits overseas. Compared to the opium traffic, Macao's two other traditional vices — prostitution and gambling — seem like mild peccadillos.

A mere hangnail of a peninsula dangling from the China mainland, Macao and its two little islands comprise 11 square miles of real estate surrounded by Communist Chinese territory. Its narrow, cobbled, winding streets are right out of Old Lisbon; its washed, pastel-colored buildings reek with postcard quaintness.

Quiet, sleepy boulevards ring the tiny peninsula, the mountains of China heaving above all horizons. There are barracks housing the Portuguese garrison, comprised mostly of Negro soldiers from the Portuguese African colony of Mozambique; they sport red fezes and have a good local reputation for staying out of trouble with the Chinese.

MACAO'S MAJOR commercial activities are fishing, firecrackers, matches, and incense, in that order. The last three items are sold to Chinese the world over, lovers of explosive demonstrations at weddings, birthdays, festivals, and the yearly celebrations of "Double Ten," the anniversary of the Chinese Nationalist revolution.

The Portuguese are vocally proud of Macao's usefulness as a place of refuge, citing the fact that China's revered revolutionary leader, Sun Yat-sen, lived in Macao during the beginning of China's revolt against the Manchus in 1911. His house, still flying the flag of the Republic of China, has been made a shrine.

Macao's present population, more than 200,000, has been swollen by a refugee influx since the Communist take-over in China. The land route from China is a narrow, heavily guarded isthmus, so refugees generally come in by water, their unlighted boats hovering close to the protection of island shoreline leading into Macao.

Macao trades with Communist China because, the Portuguese say, she has no choice; the Portuguese - language newspapers here are openly pro-Western and anti-Communist, but the Chinese press, largely subsidized by the Communists, excoriates the Americans.

All the ranting, however, cannot much stir the essential sleepiness of Macao, which is too small even to be a pawn in world affairs. It takes the present Chinese catastrophe pretty much in stride, as it has taken other cataclysms before. "China," a Portuguese official comments, "can survive any outrage, even the present one. Macao too will still be around when the Communists have gone, and it will still be Portuguese."

Makeshift Bear Trap Claims Life of Farmer

GLEN WILTON, Va. (AP) — A makeshift bear trap was blamed for the death here of C. W. Thomas, a Botetcourt County farmer. Coroner E. B. Morgan said Thomas, whose crops had been damaged by bears, rigged up a rifle and attached a wire to its trigger. He tripped on the wire when going to inspect his trap.

Toledo Thief Discovers Clothes Not Right Style

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A thief broke into the automobile of Salesman William Lutz of Mount Vernon, stole 30 sample dresses and suits, then discarded them in downtown alleys. The garments were the backless type used by undertakers in dressing corpses.

Crow Follows His Master to Public School

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Blackie probably is the only crow in the world who attends a public high school.

It isn't that Blackie is scholarly. He attends school as the loyal pet of Jack McDermott, 15-year-old sophomore at suburban University City high school.

"He learned the way and now flies there ahead of me," Jack said.

Blackie lands on a window ledge and walks in sedately when a window is opened for him.

He is on friendly terms with biology teacher Rex Conyers. Blackie frequently attends his classes, confidently flying up to Conyers' desk.

Blackie has a penchant for stealing chalk and pencils, which he hides under leaves. Once he left with a student's mathematics notes. They were never found.

The crow sleeps in a tree outside his master's house. Every morning he taps on the door and is let in. Blackie, taken by Jack from a deserted nest before he could fly, has the run of the McDermott home and is considered part of the family.

With red paint on his toenails showing he's tame, Blackie has proved he is a most sociable crow. Occasionally he visits the home of Jack's grandmother several blocks away.

His most notable feat was a visit to one of Jack's former teachers at another school several miles away.

Sen. Humphrey Writes for Izvestia

Russians Hold Senator's Story From Publication

WASHINGTON (NANA) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D., Minn.) has told the Russian people he hopes to return to the Soviets in 1959.

But there is some question as to whether the Russians have got the word.

The senator expressed his hope for another round with Russian leaders in an article he prepared for Izvestia, the official paper of the Soviet government, after his eight-hour interview with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow.

The article was delivered to the paper on Dec. 5 but, as far as could be determined here, it has not yet appeared in print.

The English text of the article, obtained here, indicates why the Soviet leaders might be hesitant in printing the views of the Minnesota senator. In outlining the "tremendous stake which the American people have in the avoidance of war," Sen. Humphrey gives a picture of high living standards in the United States that makes the life of the Russian appear very meager. He states:

"Three-quarters of our families own their own homes and their own automobiles, which war would all destroy.

"Ninety-five per cent of our farms are served by electricity, and the country has almost 70,000,000 telephones.

"This too would all disappear in a war. The industrial worker, whose average wage for a 40-hour week is now about $75 (750 rubles), has a great interest in the continued existence and prosperity of his factory, and so also do the many millions of Americans who own these factories through the shares which they have bought.

"Our tasks for the future are huge. If there are now almost 3,500,000 Americans in higher educational institutions, we must plan for facilities for twice that number by 1975. We have recently embarked on a 13-year highway program to cost $33,000,000,000 which will add 40,000 miles of superhighways throughout the country to the millions of miles of hard-surfaced roads which have already been built. . . ."

The article, about 1,500 words long, relates what the senator had seen during his trip to the Soviet Union in terms similar to those used in press conferences by Sen. Humphrey since his return to the United States.

It pleads for an increase in cultural exchanges and for a humanitarian "war" against "our common enemies such as disease, ignorance, misery, poverty and fear."

The senator writes that the shortness of his visit prevented him from visiting more areas of the country. He adds:

"I hope, however, next year to have an opportunity for a more prolonged stay, with further fruitful discussions."

METHODIST BOARD MERGER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Methodist committee has been authorized to work out a plan for merging the denomination's three social-action boards — the Board of Temperance, the Board of World Peace, and the Board of Social and Economic Relations.

College Women Oppose Drinking and Smoking

JEFFERSON CITY, Tenn. (AP) —A survey of Baptist women in east Tennessee, made by two professors at Carson-Newman college here, shows that the majority of them do not smoke nor drink intoxicants, and are strongly against dancing. Only about one in five favors integration of public schools.

NEW METHODIST HIGH

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Enrollment in the Methodist Church's 10 theological schools is at an all-time high of 2,344 this year. This is 10 per cent above the fall semester last year.

Building Boom Forecast

NEW YORK (AP) — Statisticians figure that the crop of war babies of the 1940s will cause a building boom in the '60s.

Statisticians for Allied Chemical's Barrett Division say the army of more than 13,700,000 children will reach the home-buying stage between 1965 and 1970. During that period, builders will be completing more than 1½ million homes a year.

Lawbreakers Are Caught by Women's Dogs

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Clara Mullkin runs a business that helps put criminals out of business.

She is believed to be the only woman bloodhound trainer in the nation, keeping 10 dogs on call 24 hours a day for police.

"We can never tell when the police will call," said the 72-year-old woman, affectionately dubbed the "Bloodhound Lady" by her friends.

"It may be several times a week. Sometimes two calls for hounds will come at the same time. It just depends on how bad people are being. We do notice we have more police calls around the time of the full moon."

The art of training is a secret—a secret learned from her late husband.

"It's much like teaching a child to walk," she explains. "No cruelty is involved. In fact, I use children to help train the dogs for sleuthing."

Mrs. Mullkin trains no dogs but her own and sells none of them in Kentucky. Sales, however, have been made as far afield as the West Indies and in Central and South America.

Conviction cannot be made on the evidence of the bloodhounds alone, but their findings often tip the legal scales.

"In the space of a half century, more than 2,000 criminals have run afoul of our animals and been convicted of crimes ranging from moonshining to rape," she said.

Mrs. Mullkin's biggest problems is getting some of her customers to pay up at the trail's end.

A few have been known to give "cold" checks — to the trainer of bloodhounds.

Delay Deportation Efforts

Hoodlums Making Use Of Loopholes in Statutes

By VICTOR RIESEL

Hand me my party card. At least one Mafia chief says the newspapers in the United States are Communist troublemakers digging up all that nonsense about an invisible government and things underworld. This sage sociological analysis comes from none other than Joe Profaci, dean of the Mafia grand council and veteran of its clandestine clambakes since the early '20s.

VICTOR RIESEL

Profaci made this observation while discussing newspaper charges that the famed Apalachin cook-out was a national crime convention. All this is of interest at this minute because the Dept. of Justice has just succeeded in denaturalizing the dean.

It took almost two years to get this far. It will take years more to win a deportation order—and there you have the lead to a story which should make the congressmen's faces as red as Profaci's opinion of our journals.

For, all through the last session of Congress there was a simple bill in the hopper which could have been used to cut deeply into the labor rackets—if it had become law.

The bill, known as S-345, would have wiped out the power of the mob to use ancient legalism simply as a stalling tactic in deportation cases. Few paid any attention to the bill despite the Justice Department's efforts to rush it through.

So, it takes up to five or more years to move against the men who really are the powers in the labor rackets.

JOE PROFACI is typical. Almost two years ago, the Immigration and Naturalization Service started proceedings against him. Profaci viewed the case with justified disdain. He knew it would take years. It has.

Yet Joe Profaci is the symbol of what has so aroused the nation since the exposures of the corrosion and corruption inside some captive unions.

Not too long ago, for example, the record shows that when Profaci was questioned he had on him "a number of cards of various union officials throughout the eastern part of the U.S."

One of Robert Kennedy's investigators learned that these were the personal cards of officials in seven locals in three international unions stretching from New York to Chicago.

WHEN KENNEDY had Profaci on the McClellan committee witness stand and asked the significance of these contracts, Profaci said it would incriminate him if he answered.

'You would lose no currency by wagering that Mr. P. has contacts beyond these mentioned—but three international unions make a significant combine just by themselves.

If Profaci had been deported earlier, his influence in these outfits would have been severed. At least a minor skirmish in this vast battle would have been won.

There is the case of Profaci's colleague and fellow crime convention delegate, Vito Genovese, a gourmet who can cater to his own tastes, for he is rated by the boys to have some 30 million dollars. Maybe it's less. But it's a lot, no matter how you count what he has made out of his invisible occupation.

Years ago Immigration agents started to move against Genovese. Finally on Sept. 1, 1955, the Justice Department was able to denaturalize him.

Now, more than three years later, after many legal moves, Genovese still is free—if that's what you can call it.

HE IS IN NEW YORK Federal Court being tried on a serious narcotics conspiracy charge. It will be several more years before he can be deported, whether or not he is convicted on the current rap.

Genovese, like Profaci, just rolls on and on with his appeals. Genovese, like Profaci, has far-flung contacts in some international unions.

Literally, there are hundreds of others with similar contacts. They are deportable. If they were dispatched abroad, their influence in American labor circles would be cut. Sure there would be newcomers, but not with the power of the old black guard.

Yet, red tape has so snagged the Justice Department's powers that only 12 men of Profaci's stature (including Murder Inc.'s Joe Adonis) have been deported since July 7, 1954 If S-345 had become law, we'd have had more law and order.

If Cabinet members and leaders of the two big parties can't get together on one big anti-racket law, let's at least have a little one just to tide us over the criminal tidal wave.

By MARIE TORRE

Television Competition

Christmas, for the television networks, is the time of year to shower viewers with garlands of special programs. But for viewers — judging by the advance schedules — this TV Christmas may be the time for schizophrenia.

Marie Torre

Cause: Trying to decide which show to see when two or three programs of merit are placed in opposition. In television, they call the practice "competition." And although there's a strong spirit of competition in allied fields, common courtesies are observed as a rule.

When one motion picture company, for example, holds a critics' screening, a central office is checked to avoid conflict with another film company's press plans.

In the sacroscant white towers of the Broadway theater, opening nights are registered in advance to insure against two premieres at the same time.

IN TELEVISION, however these courtesies do not exist. Instead of subscribing to the correct thing, the networks gleefully and deliberately attempt to stymie the opposition by pitting one good show against another.

And the viewer be damned, even though he is the loyal little fellow who sits by the TV set night after night, exposing himself to Westerns, Easterns, Southerns, Northerns and half-hour nuggets of filmed violence that aren't worth the price of the celluloid.

Then along comes a network announcement about a special show which finds the viewer rubbing his hands in anticipation when, a few days later, another network rolls the drums to announce a spectacular that'll be on the same night, same time, different station.

THE SUNDAY of Nov. 30 was a sterling example. On this day, a special telecast starring Leonard Bernstein, the brilliant composer-conductor, was set on CBS at 5 p.m. At the same time, on ABC, there was another special which many wanted to see — "Art Carney Meets Peter and the Wolf."

In other words, two shows of special interest were slotted against each other, while an hour later, from 6 to 7 p.m., ABC featured such illuminating fare as "Annie Oakley" and "Hawkeye."

Now couldn't ABC have placed the Carney show in the 6 p.m. slot and given viewers two hours of superb entertainment instead of one hour of schizophrenia?

Even more ludicrous is the rivalry that exists between "The Late Show" on CBS and NBC's "Movie Four." After night upon night of mediocre films, the caliber of which turned a thousand theaters into supermarkets, all one network has to do is announce a "High Noon" and you can bet your turning finger the other soon after will announce another blockbuster in the same period.

With so many hours of tasteless viewing on the air, one wishes the networks would forget their rivalries and occasionally give the viewers a break. Instead of trying to cut in on the other guy's time when he's willing to spend a few extra dollars, the networks would do well to spend their time upgrading programming.

In that way — who knows! — they might satisfy the television viewer — or does anybody care about him these days?

CBS QUIETLY urged its TV affiliates to withhold the movie version of "For Whom the Bell Tolls," co-starring Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman, until after the "Playhouse 90" two-part adaptation of the Ernest Hemingway story is shown in March. Are comparisons feared? . . .

Some of the sketches now being used on the "Arthur Murray Party" are the product of a new writer, Mrs. Henry Heimlich, one of the Murrays' twin daughters. . .

"I Love Lucy" reruns will be shown daily on CBS, beginning Jan. 5, in the 11-11:30 a.m. slot, with "Arthur Godfrey Time" moving to 10:30 a.m. . . .

Readers ask what's become of Ralph Story since "The $64,000 Challenge" sank in the CBS channel, Story's back home in California and when last heard from was working as emcee of the pilot film of "What Is Love?," a projected audience - participation series. . . .

Milton Berle's Christmas Eve show will be on ice. He's hired George Arnold's Ice Revue for the occasion. . . .

Among statements we find indigestible is the one from a "Du Pont Show of the Month" spokesman, who says, "We want to do an original play so bad we can taste it, but we're hard put to find the writers and properties." Amazing how the weekly "Play House 90" manages to find originals more than half the time!

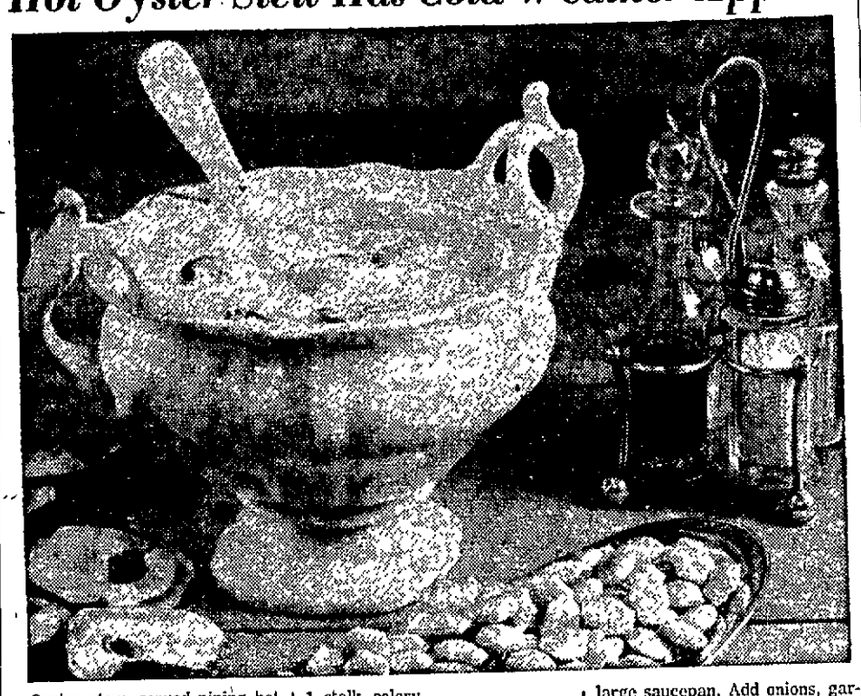
Canines' Ease Stressed By South Carolina Pair

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — It's far from a dog's life for the canines belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Carli.

The kennels in which they raise German short-haired pointers have air-conditioning, radiant heat for winter, and a sound system through which music is piped.

Hot Oyster Stew Has Cold Weather Appeal



Oyster stew, served piping hot is a "company's comin' " dish that calls for more—oyster stew, that is.

The tasty, rich flavor of the stew is just the thing for cold evenings or a Sunday night supper.

Oyster Stew

¼ cup butter or margarine
2 onions, sliced
1 clove garlic, quartered
1 carrot, sliced
1 stalk celery
Sprig of parsley
2 seeds thyme
2 cups milk
1 cup heavy cream
1 cup oyster liquid (or oyster plus milk to make 1 cup)
2 cups or 2 dozen oysters
½ teaspoon salt
Few grinds fresh pepper
Dash Worcestershire sauce
Dash Tabasco

Melt butter or margarine in a large saucepan. Add onions, garlic, carrot, celery, parsley, and thyme. Cover and cook about 10 minutes. Add milk, cream and oyster liquid.

Heat until hot, but do not boil. Strain into another saucepan.

Add oysters and cook just until oysters curl at edges. Add salt and pepper. Just before serving, add Worcestershire and Tabasco. Makes 4 servings.

Picture Campaign Advised in Traffic

COHASSET, Mass. (AP) — Police Chief Hector J. Pelletier, who is also secretary-treasurer of the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Assn., has a novel approach to the tipsy driver problem.

Pictures should be taken of them at the time of their arrest, Chief Pelletier says. The photos, he notes, would be admissible in court as evidence.

"Maybe if these drunken operators really see what they look like," the chief says, "they will think twice before taking the wheel of a car."

Name Change Is Asked To Stop Embarrassment

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — George Pravda and his wife, Joanna, filed a court petition to change their last name to Prav. Pravda means "truth" in Russian but is also is the name of an official newspaper of the Soviet Union. They said they wanted to change their name because Pravda is known as an organ of Communist propaganda and therefore the name causes them embarrassment. The court took the petition under consideration.

New Revival Scheduled For Hit Broadway Play

NEW YORK (AP) — The renowned Victorian romance of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning is about to appear on Broadway's stage again — this time as a musical.

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street," which gave Katharine Cornell one of her greatest acting triumphs, is being transformed by Helen Thomas under the producing aegis of Jean Dalrymple.

In the new version, the sponsors report, there is to be less emphasis on the fiercely assertive papa of the original, and more development of other members of the famous family.

Pulitzer Prize Winner Is Slated for Broadway

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pulitzer Prize novel of this year, "A Death in the Family" is to come to Broadway next season in dramatic form.

Producer Fred Coe, currently represented by the hit "Two for the Seesaw," is nurturing plans for the James Agee work. Tad Mosel, a writer for television, has been assigned the adaptation.

New Tranquilizer May Ease Sorrow

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Science may soon develop a tranquilizer-type drug which will relieve mental depression, Yale psychiatrists say — but don't look for a drug which will alleviate human grief.

Dr. Daniel Freedman, assistant professor of psychiatry, said while there is no drug at present which is entirely proven as a depression-killer, there are many new drugs which show great promise.

Instead of a "human - grief drug," Freedman hopes another type of drug will emerge.

"I would like very much to see one which would help learning," he added.

Wrecked Ship Resisting Navy's Removal Efforts

TANGIER, Va. (AP) — Generations after she was sent to the bottom of Chesapeake Bay by the guns of the battleship New Hampshire in 1911, the historic ship San Marcos is still resisting efforts to remove her as a menace to navigation. The wreckage is still within 20 feet of the surface after the Navy used 11 tons of explosives in the latest efforts. The ship has been the object of other military firepower operations including aerial bombing by Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell.

Bureau Reports Decline In Theatrical Abilities

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bureau of Artistic Aptitude Testing, a private organization interested in the theatrical crafts, has just reported the results of its first 1,200 case histories.

The bureau discovered that 37 per cent of the hopefuls who come in for examination completely lack any show business talent. The studies are based on a series of psychological tests.

Cleveland, O., was named for one of its founders, Gen. Moses Cleaveland. Somewhere the "a" was dropped from the name.

Geologists Making Arrangements

Study of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky Area Planned

CINCINNATI (AP)—Geologists of the University of Cincinnati and Ohio State University are cooperating in a massive re-study and modernization of geological history of parts of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky 400 million years ago when the area was a vast inland sea.

The study, said Dr. William F. Jenks, head of Cincinnati's Department of Geology and Geography, may lead to the discovery of unknown resources of oil and gas.

Grant Announced

As a first step, Dr. Jenks has announced a $23,250 grant from the National Science Foundation. This, he said, will finance reorganization of Cincinnati's 50,000-specimen collection of fossil fauna dating from the "Upper Ordivician" period.

Other universities, including Miami, at Oxford, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky have indicated interest in the project.

Under direction of Dr. Kenneth E. Caster, Cincinnati professor of geology and internationally known palaeontologist, the study moves forward determining the detailed sequence of rocks and a more complete record of marine animals living at the time the rocks were formed.

Plans for the study have been made by Dr. Jenks, Dr. Caster, Dr. Malcolm P. Weiss and Dr. Walter C. Sweet, assistant professors or geology at Ohio State. The project will take at least 10 years and probably longer.

Much of the project hinges on bringing up-to-date Cincinnati's collection, Dr. Jenks said. Some specimens date back to 1860. Many are irreplaceable, taken from sites now inaccessible.

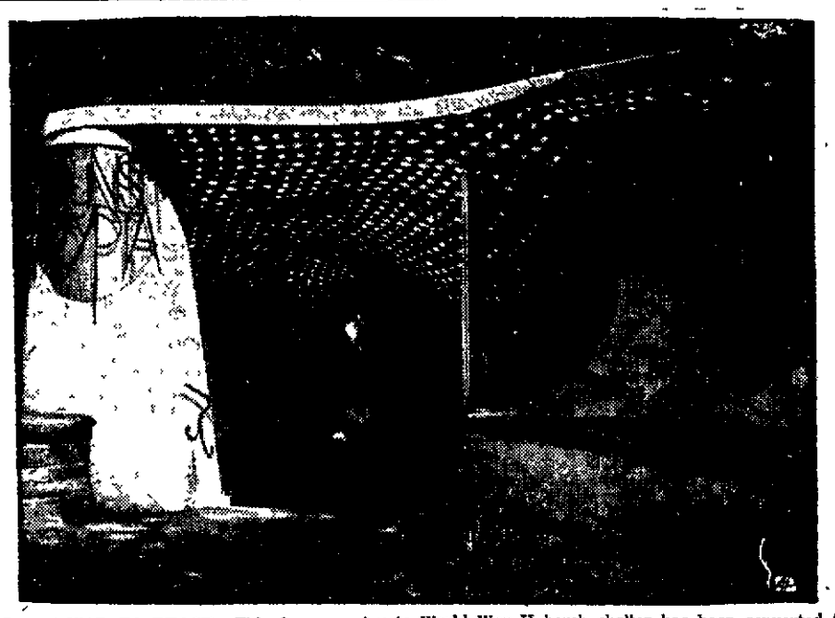
Gathered From Rock

The specimens were gathered from the exposed Ordovician rock on the crest of the "Cincinnati Arch," a zone in which old rocks are warped upward in an area extending from Tennessee to Lake Ontario. Some 2,000 of these specimens are "types"—that is, they have served as the basis for Palaeontological articles in scientific journals.

"The three-state area centering in Cincinnati is probably the finest in the world for studying this chapter of the Earth's history," Dr. Caster said.

An exchange of information on published work on rocks on the Cincinnati Arch has already begun.

State geologists of Indiana, Kentucky, and Ohio are in favor of the broad restudy, although no state funds are involved in this specific project, Dr. Jenks explained.



FROM WAR TO PEACE. This former entry to World War II bomb shelter has been converted to an eyecatcher in Bremen, Germany. A paint job and 1,200 pieces of glass have made the entry an attractive approach to an art shop in subterranean shelter.

1942 Offer Is Collected By Hunters in Wyoming

SHERIDAN, Wyo. (AP)—In 1942 Joseph Skatula stuck a note in a bottle and left it in Big Goose Canyon deep in the Big Horn mountains of northern Wyoming.

It said: "I'll buy a drink for whoever finds this."

Orville Wright and Darrel Shafer found the bottle during the big game hunting season this fall. They went to Sheridan and found Skatula. They got their drink.

Chain Reaction Set Off By Boy's Horned Toads

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — The horned toads attracted the badger and the badger woke up the dog and the ruckus which followed brought the family and the family called the cops — and that was the end of the badger.

All this occurred on the Clarence Hansens' front porch after 9-year-old Jerry Joe Hansen had parked a basket full of horned toads there.

Can't Be Stopped

Governor in Oklahoma In Favor of Integration

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Heaven doesn't have any special outside rooms, the governor of this once-segregated state is telling the South.

A product of Southern social standards himself, Gov. Raymond Gary has quietly preached his personal belief that integration is here to stay.

He says he has made friends wherever he has spoken.

He has made recent speeches on the subject in Macon, Ga., Tucson, Ariz., and Dallas. In each place he has said this nation must accept Christian principles. Although he doesn't mention integration directly, his implication is unmistakable. He has confirmed his meaning later.

EXCERPTS FROM the speeches:

"We are all God's children because God made us all in his image. I'm sure there are no special outside rooms in Heaven."

"You see a nation (the United States) whose convictions have not been strong enough in the past, and are apparently not strong enough today, to carry out this program of equal opportunities for all people without strife and bickering."

"God is no respecter of persons. Prejudices, and we all have them, are contrary to the will of God. No nation can continue to be strong and to prosper in the sight of God whose people permit a wide gulf between the different religious and beliefs of a people."

"In order for a nation to survive materially, its people must be united together for a common cause. That cause should include respect for others, regardless of their religious beliefs, their habits or their backgrounds."

It was by his own insistence that Oklahoma quietly removed its historic prohibitions against integration in a 1955 statewide election. Since then 459 schools—not counting colleges — have opened their doors to Negroes. College barriers had been dropped previously.

Oklahoma's integration has been accomplished with virtually no opposition. The mixing is as general in southern counties, popularly termed "Little Dixie," as in northern areas bordering Kansas, Missouri and Colorado.

By Gary's estimate, the state is saving a million dollars a year through integration. In addition, better facilities are available where the cost of one set of schools has been eliminated.

Gary has lived all his life in traditionally - segregated southern Oklahoma. He taught school there and was a county superintendent of schools.

WHEN HE became governor, one of his first acts was to submit a constitutional amendment including a measure to abolish required separate schools. It carried by a heavy margin.

Gary, a 50-year-old wholesale oil company owner, is an active layman in the Southern Baptist Church. He was Sunday School Superintendent in his own church at Madill for many years before he became governor and moved to Oklahoma City.

The governor is reluctant about voicing his opinions on integration publicly. He doesn't want to stir opposition that might result from misinterpretation.

But he believes, and is saying more frequently, that integration is here to stay and it is only a matter of time until it is accepted throughout the nation. Oklahoma is an example, Gary says, of what can be done when persons in high places begin working toward the change rather than attempting to prevent any change.
